Eastburg Swamps Stroud Union In Football Classic

EAST Stroudsburg High School, compiling a .750 touchdown batting average, trimmed Stroud Union High 45-20 in the Thanksgiving inter-borough football rivalry at Gordon Giffels.

Eight times the Cavaliers had control of the football and six times they scored touchdowns. East Stroudsburg did have the ball for a ninth time but used only two plays to run out the clock in the final seconds.

Some 4,000 people saw the Cavaliers win for the second straight year.

For about nine minutes of the first period, Stroud Union was in the game but once the Cavaliers got their offense in order, there was little hope for the Mounties. It was only 13-0 at halftime but it was 25-0 before Stroud Union could score.

East Stroudsburg (9-1) did almost all its damage on the ground. The pass game didn't figure too strongly in the Cavaliers' pre-game plans and passes had very little to do with East Stroudsburg's success. Cavalier quarterback Jack Van Horn tossed six aerials and completed three for 65 yards and a touchdown. The TD toss was a 17-yarder to end Earl Palmer.

But the Cavalier ground game was awesome. Coach Jack Kist's backs powered for 393 yards on the ground. East Stroudsburg halfbacks Harold (Mach 2) Myers and Brian (Flying) Farris took turns ripping the Mountie line. Myers, the club's leading ground gainer and scorer gained 200 yards in 20 carries. Farris, who had missed the last two games because of an ankle injury, accounted for 152 yards in 17 carries. Both had two touchdowns.

Myers' 12-point performance gives the Bushkill senior 111 points for the year, well ahead of the school record of 83 set in 1954 by Bob Kupiszewski.

Myers' longest run was a 56-yarder, the last time he carried the ball. Farris' best effort was for 36 years.

Van Horn added 35 yards on six carries and fullback Dave Harmon had six yards on three tries for the Cavaliers.

Jim Steele did not carry the ball from scrimmage but he added an 80-yard touchdown on a kick-off return.

Fullback Don Baylor was the top runner for the Mounties, who ended with a 3-7 record. Baylor had 43 yards in nine cracks. Halfback Tom Schatzman, the Mounties' top ground threat this season, had 40 yards on 13 pops. Schatzman picked up two of the Mountie TDs, while Baylor had the other. All three TDs were from the one-yard line.

Stroud Union gained 78 ground yards and Loney completed 8 of 17 pass attempts for 88 yards. End Jack Imbt caught three of the tosses for 59 yards. The Mountie backs ended the game with minus yards in ground gaining.

Mountie coach Jerry Stulgaitis, who promised that Stroud Union would have something new for the turkey day morning game, had surprises on both offense and defense.

On offense, Stulgaitis used "swinging tackles." The Mounties, who use an unbalanced line, (more players on one side of the center than the other) normally have more players on the right side of the center.

But Stroud Union lineed up for each offense play with both tackles Bill Queenan and Don Metzgar behind the quarterback.

The two tackles delayed for a second at that spot, waiting for East Stroudsburg to settle its defenses and then moved together to one side of the line.

The swinging tackles confused the Cavaliers on the first play of the game, as Schatzman went for nine yards, his longest run of the game. But after that, the Cavaliers shifted their defenses to compensate for the double tackles and the Mountie running game was sharply curtailed.

Value Of Any Pacts With Reds Questioned

By The Associated Press

The manner in which Britain, the United States and West Germany are now approaching the question of negotiations with the Soviet Union is remindful of the time 40 years ago when, after a naval disarmament conference, the United States sank ships and the rest of the world sank blueprints.

After that — and this is something to bear in mind now also — the nations which sank blueprints, especially Japan, immediately began drawing new and more modern ones.

The word from Washington after the Adenauer-Kennedy conferences is that the Allies—with the exception of France—are ready to negotiate for rearrangement of some of their actual Berlin activities if the Soviet Union will merely retreat from some of the unilateral claims she has made.

Having finally arrived at a 3-1 position, Britain will this weekend start putting the pressure on French President Charles de Gaulle to go along.

The Washington communique speaks positively of only one thing—that Kennedy and Adenauer got together on a method of operation. Thus—unless the communique covers up something, as communiques do frequently—one positive thing appears to have been achieved. This is reassurance to West Germany that the United States is not prepared to make concessions which are considered vital to German interests.

There are vague indications of maneuver around the point of increased relations between East and West Germany—though not to the point of recognizing any permanent division of Germany. Also around the points of technical control of West Berlin's supply lines, and perhaps a reversion to some of the points which the Allies advanced at Geneva in 1955, such as a reduction in propaganda tensions and possible token reduction of Allied occupation forces.

Thus it appears that, while the Allies remain adamant about points to which they will not go — such as agreement to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand for a "free city"—there are points to which they will go, giving up at least some rights which they now hold while asking only that the Communists give up some claims.

And, if they ever get to that point, they will also be at the point where the Communists will start drawing new blueprints to replace any they might pigeonhole or "sink."

The Allies intend to ask for an end to the physical imprisonment of East Germans behind the new Communist wall in Berlin, but apparently without any real hope of progress on the point.

Yet, if they get no Soviet admission of the validity of any past agreements, the validity of any new agreements will be in doubt even before they are achieved.

Brazil Air Crash Kills 52 Persons

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — An Argentine Comet jetliner bound for New York plunged into a peaceful eucalyptus plantation seconds after takeoff early Thursday, killing all 52 persons aboard. Witnesses said the plane seemd to explode as it crashed and burst into flames.

One U.S. citizen, Gilbert Jean Luy, 47, (address unavailable) was listed by Argentine Airlines as among six non-Argentines aboard. The others were Luciana Rose Larrea Luy, 31, presumably Luy's wife, who was listed as a Peruvian, a Belgian woman, an Austrian man, and a Hungarian couple residing in Brazil.

The plane, a Comet 4, carried 40 passengers and a crew of 12, an air force communique said. The flight originated in Buenos Aires, with a stop at Sao Paulo's Viracopos Airport, some 70 miles from the city itself.

The crash — of still undetermined cause — was the first serious one for the British-made Comet 4 which replaced the ill-starred Comet 1 after years of research costing millions of dollars.

The crash occurred about two miles from Viracopos Airport. Wreckage and bodies were scattered for hundreds of yards. Only a few parts of the charred wreckage were recognizable, the explosion was so tremendous.

Brazilian air force investigators began looking for the cause. Some experts expressed the belief the jet developed engine trouble on takeoff and the pilot was attempting to make an emergency landing. Officials set the time of the crash at 2:45 a.m.

The plane cut 600 yards through the trees before sliding down a 20-foot slope. Officials said only two of the bodies were recognizable, and they appeared to be crewmen.

One of the witnesses told of seeing the plane as a "ball of fire" in the air. Later, personnel of the control tower told newsmen the jet reached an altitude of 2,600 feet and began dropping rapidly. After taking off the plane was not in communication with the tower.

The recently built Viracopos Airport is surrounded by flat terrain with no obstacles in the vicinity. Airline officials said the plane made a normal flight from Buenos Aires and the pilot, Roberto Mosca, indicated no trouble in his final contact with the tower before takeoff. The weather was clear.

The bodies were removed to the nearby city of Campinas for examination by medical authorities.

The crash was the second major air disaster in Brazil this month. On Nov. 1, a Brazilian airliner on the last leg of a flight from Portugal crashed into a hillside near Recife. Fifty-seven of the 88 persons aboard perished.

The disaster plunged officials of the British De Havilland Co., builders of the Comet, into gloom. An officials said, "The Comet 4 now is in service all over the world. They have flown 125 million miles and this is our first serious crash."

The Comet 4 was developed after disaster overtook two Comet 1s in Italy. First a Comet took off from Rome and disappeared near the island of Elba. A few months later another Comet disappeared near Naples. Essential parts of Comet 1 were salvaged from the Mediterranean and esearch showed that the plane's pressure cabin failed because of metal fatigue.

After years of research, Comet 4 inaugurated the first transatlantic jet airliner service in 1958.

OFF ON SEARCH FOR SON — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller boards a search plane at Merauke, New Guinea, for a flight over the wild coastal area where his missing son, Michael, 23, was last seen trying to reach shore from his disabled native craft. Search Being Narrowed To Coastal Area

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller spent a sad Thanksgiving Thursday looking for his son Michael, 23, missing since Sunday off the wild southern coast of New Guinea.

The New York governor rode in a flying boat that skimmed low over the mangrove swamps, infested with crocodiles, in an area where Michael was last seen trying to swim to shore.

While it seemed a forlorn hope that Michael made it to shore safely, the hunt went ahead vigorously.

Papuans in their native canoes pressed through the swamps. Arrangements were made to bring in helicopters from Australia.

The Australian Foreign Affairs Department said two helicopters were being sent from Sydney to Townsville, Queensland. If developments warranted, they were to fly on to Merauke, the search headquarters in Dutch New Guinea.

Since there was little chance that Michael could have survived at sea all this time, the search in the offshore waters was called off.

The search was being concentrated on the forbidding coast where Michael and his party ran into disaster last week while he was on a coastal journey to collect primitive native art.

Eibrink Jansen, resident administrator in southern New Guinea, was directing the hunt. Dutch soldiers and natives reported it was slow and difficult going in the swamps.

No trace has been found of two fuel cans that a Dutch companion said Michael was using to keep him afloat as he battled to try to swim to shore.

USAF Plane Is Down In Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A United States Air Force C119 aircraft, struggling to return to the airfield at Whitehorse after reporting an emergency, crashed Thursday night. The fate of the 10 persons aboard was not immediately determined.

Coast Guard headquarters here reported a small civilian plane had flown over the crash scene shortly after the accident. Its pilot said he saw five parachutes in the snow but no sign of life. The C119 had started to burn, he said.

The flight surgeon aboard another Air Force plane that landed at Whitehorse soon after the C119 crash was sent to the scene by truck. The crash occurred about 30 miles south of Whitehorse and about two miles west of the Yukon-White Pass railroad track.

Kekkonen In USSR For Conferences

MOSCOW (AP)—President Urho Kekkonen of Finland arrived at Novosibirsk Thursday for a conference with Premier Khrushchev that may determine his country's fate.

From the airport Kekkonen drove immediately to a villa five miles outside the Siberian city where he will stay during the talks.

He is expected to begin his conversations with the Soviet premier Friday and end them by Saturday.

The current crisis, which brought Kekkonen to mid-Siberia fighting for his country's independence, began Oct. 30 when the Soviet Union told Finland it felt itself threatened by West Germany.

A note demanded that Finland open joint defense negotiations with the Soviet Union because of the alleged threat. This could lead to the establishment of Russian bases on Finnish soil, or political moves for the introduction of Communists into the Finnish government.

This is the way Czechoslovakia started toward satellite status.

At the airport Kekkonen was met by local government and Communist party officials, but Khrushchev was not there. Moscow radio said Khrushchev was on his way by train to Novosibirsk.

Children presented flowers to Kekkonen.

Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen was with his chief, as were the Finnish ambassador to Moscow, Euro Wuori, and other officials.

Also arriving on the special Ilyushin 18 plane from Moscow was the Soviet ambassador to Finland, Aleksei Zakharov.

Shortly after the original Soviet note Karjalainen hurried to Moscow, and when he returned home Kekkonen dissolved Parliament and ordered new elections for February.

It was thought this would at least ease Russian pressure during the three-month electoral period. But this month the Soviet Foreign Ministry called in Wuori and told him the situation now was "even more alarming" than when the first note was sent.

Soviets Delay Americans On Train In Stowaway Incident

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet troops made 80 Americans — including women and children — spend most of Thanksgiving Day aboard a U.S. military train because a 20-year-old East German stowed away on it.

The closest thing to a turkey dinner that the train could supply were emergency C rations—chicken and noodles.

For nearly 15 hours it looked as if a major issue were in the making with the Soviet on the right of travel between West Berlin and the outside world.

Then Col. Ernst von Pawel showed up, the head of the U.S. mission that keeps in touch with the Soviet forces in Germany. He ordered the stowaway off. The Russians let the train go.

It was the Army train that leaves West Berlin every day at 7:03 p.m. for the overnight run to Frankfurt, in West Germany. Those aboard were Army and Air Force personnel and their families, including 11 children.

After leaving West Berlin, the train has to cross 110 miles of Red-ruled East Germany before it reaches Helmstedt, West Germany. It usually gets there around midnight, but not Wednesday night.

At about 9 p.m. the train stopped at Gerwisch, in Communist East Germany. The East German boy broke a window and climbed aboard.

It was presumed that he hoped to flee to the West, but the U.S. Army would not say.

At 10:45 p.m. the train reached Marienborn, the last station on the Communist-side of the Iron

The U.S. Army said the East German conductor left the train and after interrogation the Russians learned the East German was aboard. The Soviet officer asked to search the train. The American lieutenant in charge refused in accordance with standing orders.

The Soviets refused to pass the train, and the lieutenant radioed back to Berlin that he was being held. The train and the 80 Americans stood at Marienborn station all night.

Thursday morning, Von Pawel and another officer were ordered by car to Marienborn.

At 1:10 p.m. he put the stowaway off. Five minutes later the Russians released the train.

DeGaulle Sets Stage For End Of Algerian Conflict In Talk

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle set the stage Thursday for what could be the closing act of the Algerian conflict with a bid for the support of the French officer corps.

The president gave the army a hearty "well done" for "victory" in Algeria. Then he told his soldiers they now must man the ramparts of Western civilization against a despotic menace from the East.

De Gaulle said France must have its own independent nuclear arsenal, built around a highly mobile striking force capable of prompt action anywhere and at any time, on land, sea and air. Otherwise, France could no longer be master of its own destiny, he said.

About 3,000 officers and noncommissioned officers, including 80 generals and admirals, were summoned to the anchor point of France's eastern frontier from all parts of France, North Africa and elsewhere to hear the president's address.

Silently, as befitting a military statement from their commander in-chief, the men stood at attention in the biting wintry mist, then joined their president in singing the national anthem.

"Our first goal for national defense," De Gaulle said, "is to possess strategic and tactical nuclear warheads, and the means for their delivery, just as long as others have them. We are on the way to this goal."

In brief, De Gaulle was giving his officers a new mission to supplant the excessive preoccupation with Algeria which has threatened to split the army and the nation. He said officers had successfully fulfilled their orders in North Africa, and now must face a global threat — not just a local one.

Soviet Court Sentences Two

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Supreme Court Thursday sentenced two German university students to 12 years confinement on charges of spying for the United States.

It was a stiffer sentence than meted out to American U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, who got 10 years.

The two Germans were Heidelberg students Peter Sonntag, 22, and Walter Naumann, 27.

They came here as tourists and were arrested Sept. 27.

They pleaded in court that they were not really spies, had done little or no espionage and were actually victims of an American intelligence agency.

The military collegium of the court ruled that the two youths would spend three years in prison and the other nine in a corrective labor camp. The Soviet prosecutor had demanded 15 years imprisonment.

Delegate Says NATO Allies Seek 'Instruments Of War'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A Soviet delegate Thursday accused the United States and its North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies of trying to convert the international atoms-for-peace agency into a NATO instrument of war.

Mrs. Zofia V. Mironova denounced the election of Sweden's Sigvard Eklund as director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency to succeed Sterling Cole of the United States, who retires Nov. 30. She demanded that the agency be reorganized to give it a troika staff of officials composed equally of Western, Communist and nonaligned nationals.

Mrs. Mironova, a deputy chief of the Soviet delegation here, voiced the attack in the U.N. General Assembly.

Other Communist country spokesmen echoed her charges.

Sir Patrick Dean of Britain took strong issue.

He said Mrs. Mironova's speech showed that Soviet motives were entirely political, not intended to further the agency's work.

The Soviet delegate charged that extraordinary controls were imposed on the distribution of the agency's store of fissionable material to underdeveloped countries "because the United States and its allies sought to subordinate the agency to heir military and political interests."

She asserted that Red China and other Communist countries were refused membership in the agency "because their political regime is not to the liking of the United States."

And she said the United States had imposed "its own man, Dr. Eklund" as the agency head over Soviet opposition.

Soviet delegates to the agency walked out after their Indonesian candidate to succeed Cole was defeated in a recent election at the Vienna headquarters.

World Council Seeks More Voice For Man-In-The-Pew

NEW DELHI, Nov. 23 (AP)—Demands were made Thursday that the man-in-the-pew be given greater voice in the World Council of Churches.

With representatives of nearly every element in Christiandom gathered here, an American group declared the voting delegations are "overwhelmingly composed of the clergy."

It was urged that at least one layman be named to the council's presidium as a step toward overcoming this imbalance.

The Rev. Dr. Walter D. Agonер, Princeton, N. J., director of the Fund for Theological Education, said preliminary study indicated 80 to 85 per cent of the 625 voting delegates are clergymen. The church envoys seeking to strengthen bonds among separate branches of the faith come from 18 denominations, with more than 300 million members in 60 nations.

Questioned at a news conference about representation of the laity, Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati, Ohio, Episcopal layman, said about 60 delegates—less than 10 per cent—were nonclergymen.

Of these, he said, 15 are educators and "do not exactly represent the hurly-burly of life."

End Of Trujillo Regime Is Marked By Renaming City

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)— Dominicans rechristened their capital Thursday, reacted violently once more against the Trujillos who usurped their domain a generation ago, and saw another batch of Trujillos fly off into exile.

The main violence was spent in attacking Trujillo properties.

There was jubilation over the restored name of Santo Domingo to replace the city's name, Ciudad Trujillo, that lasted 25 years.

While rioting again swept the streets, Congress passed without a dissenting voice the request of President Joaquin Balaguer to make the city once again Santo Domingo, the name it bore from the time of Columbus.

The Trujillos had wiped out the name and substituted their own in 1936, six years after Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo established the dictatorship that started to crumble away at his assassination last May 30.

In the city's streets, looters and vandals went on a ransacking rampage, attacking Trujillo homes and properties.

Mobs broke into the luxurious home of Romeo Trujillo, one of the old dictator's brothers, and wrecked it before police arrived. With their ranks swelling, the looters descended on the properties of lesser Trujillos and hit the homes with the destructive force of a tropical storm.

In scattered parts of the city, police hurled noise bombs in a vain effort to contain the crowds. But police avoided the guns and clubs used in the past and the mobs surged on.

At the airport, the last of the Trujillos boarded a Pan American plane for Miami.

In the group was the dictator's aged mother, 96-year-old Julia Molina Trujillo, who was taken to the plane in a wheelchair.

Crowds jeered as the family filed to the plane but fell suddenly silent as Mrs. Trujillo's wheelchair was lifted up to the airliner's door in a hoist.

Also on the plane was Charles McLaughlin, a former Marine sergeant who came here with U.S. occupation forces three decades ago, was befriended by the Trujillos, gave up his U.S. citizenship and became a power in the family. He was made a colonel, and put at the head of the country's airline. His daughter, Alma, married the dictator's brother, Hector, who served as president for eight years.

Hector and other members of the family left earlier this week, forced out by Balaguer with the help of the Dominican air force and a show of support by U.S. ships and planes.

One of the witnesses told of seeing the plane as a "ball of fire" in the air. Later, personnel of the control tower told newsmen the jet reached an altitude of 2,600 feet and began dropping rapidly. After taking off the plane was not in communication with the tower.

The recently built Viracopos Airport is surrounded by flat terrain with no obstacles in the vicinity. Airline officials said the plane made a normal flight from Buenos Aires and the pilot, Roberto Mosca, indicated no trouble in his final contact with the tower before takeoff. The weather was clear.

The bodies were removed to the nearby city of Campinas for examination by medical authorities.

The crash was the second major air disaster in Brazil this month. On Nov. 1, a Brazilian airliner on the last leg of a flight from Portugal crashed into a hillside near Recife. Fifty-seven of the 88 persons aboard perished.

The disaster plunged officials of the British De Havilland Co., builders of the Comet, into gloom. An officials said, "The Comet 4 now is in service all over the world. They have flown 125 million miles and this is our first serious crash."

The Comet 4 was developed after disaster overtook two Comet 1s in Italy. First a Comet took off from Rome and disappeared near the island of Elba. A few months later another Comet disappeared near Naples. Essential parts of Comet 1 were salvaged from the Mediterranean and esearch showed that the plane's pressure cabin failed because of metal fatigue.

After years of research, Comet 4 inaugurated the first transatlantic jet airliner service in 1958.

OFF ON SEARCH FOR SON — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller boards a search plane at Merauke, New Guinea, for a flight over the wild coastal area where his missing son, Michael, 23, was last seen trying to reach shore from his disabled native craft. A companion, Dr. R. S. Wassing, remained with the craft and was picked up Nov. 20 by a Dutch naval vessel. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Sydney)

Search Being Narrowed To Coastal Area

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller spent a sad Thanksgiving Thursday looking for his son Michael, 23, missing since Sunday off the wild southern coast of New Guinea.

The New York governor rode in a flying boat that skimmed low over the mangrove swamps, infested with crocodiles, in an area where Michael was last seen trying to swim to shore.

While it seemed a forlorn hope that Michael made it to shore safely, the hunt went ahead vigorously.

Papuans in their native canoes pressed through the swamps. Arrangements were made to bring in helicopters from Australia.

The Australian Foreign Affairs Department said two helicopters were being sent from Sydney to Townsville, Queensland. If developments warranted, they were to fly on to Merauke, the search headquarters in Dutch New Guinea.

Since there was little chance that Michael could have survived at sea all this time, the search in the offshore waters was called off.

The search was being concentrated on the forbidding coast where Michael and his party ran into disaster last week while he was on a coastal journey to collect primitive native art.

Eibrink Jansen, resident administrator in southern New Guinea, was directing the hunt. Dutch soldiers and natives reported it was slow and difficult going in the swamps.

No trace has been found of two fuel cans that a Dutch companion said Michael was using to keep him afloat as he battled to try to swim to shore.

Kekkonen In USSR For Conferences

MOSCOW (AP)—President Urho Kekkonen of Finland arrived at Novosibirsk Thursday for a conference with Premier Khrushchev that may determine his country's fate.

From the airport Kekkonen drove immediately to a villa five miles outside the Siberian city where he will stay during the talks.

He is expected to begin his conversations with the Soviet premier Friday and end them by Saturday.

The current crisis, which brought Kekkonen to mid-Siberia fighting for his country's independence, began Oct. 30 when the Soviet Union told Finland it felt itself threatened by West Germany.

A note demanded that Finland open joint defense negotiations with the Soviet Union because of the alleged threat. This could lead to the establishment of Russian bases on Finnish soil, or political moves for the introduction of Communists into the Finnish government.

This is the way Czechoslovakia started toward satellite status.

At the airport Kekkonen was met by local government and Communist party officials, but Khrushchev was not there. Moscow radio said Khrushchev was on his way by train to Novosibirsk.

Children presented flowers to Kekkonen.

Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen was with his chief, as were the Finnish ambassador to Moscow, Euro Wuori, and other officials.

Also arriving on the special Ilyushin 18 plane from Moscow was the Soviet ambassador to Finland, Aleksei Zakharov.

Shortly after the original Soviet note Karjalainen hurried to Moscow, and when he returned home Kekkonen dissolved Parliament and ordered new elections for February.

It was thought this would at least ease Russian pressure during the three-month electoral period. But this month the Soviet Foreign Ministry called in Wuori and told him the situation now was "even more alarming" than when the first note was sent.

Soviets Delay Americans On Train In Stowaway Incident

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet troops made 80 Americans — including women and children — spend most of Thanksgiving Day aboard a U.S. military train because a 20-year-old East German stowed away on it.

The closest thing to a turkey dinner that the train could supply were emergency C rations—chicken and noodles.

For nearly 15 hours it looked as if a major issue were in the making with the Soviet on the right of travel between West Berlin and the outside world.

Then Col. Ernst von Pawel showed up, the head of the U.S. mission that keeps in touch with the Soviet forces in Germany. He ordered the stowaway off. The Russians let the train go.

It was the Army train that leaves West Berlin every day at 7:03 p.m. for the overnight run to Frankfurt, in West Germany. Those aboard were Army and Air Force personnel and their families, including 11 children.

After leaving West Berlin, the train has to cross 110 miles of Red-ruled East Germany before it reaches Helmstedt, West Germany. It usually gets there around midnight, but not Wednesday night.

At about 9 p.m. the train stopped at Gerwisch, in Communist East Germany. The East German boy broke a window and climbed aboard.

It was presumed that he hoped to flee to the West, but the U.S. Army would not say.

At 10:45 p.m. the train reached Marienborn, the last station on the Communist-side of the Iron

The U.S. Army said the East German conductor left the train and after interrogation the Russians learned the East German was aboard. The Soviet officer asked to search the train. The American lieutenant in charge refused in accordance with standing orders.

The Soviets refused to pass the train, and the lieutenant radioed back to Berlin that he was being held. The train and the 80 Americans stood at Marienborn station all night.

Thursday morning, Von Pawel and another officer were ordered by car to Marienborn.

At 1:10 p.m. he put the stowaway off. Five minutes later the Russians released the train.

DeGaulle Sets Stage For End Of Algerian Conflict In Talk

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle set the stage Thursday for what could be the closing act of the Algerian conflict with a bid for the support of the French officer corps.

The president gave the army a hearty "well done" for "victory" in Algeria. Then he told his soldiers they now must man the ramparts of Western civilization against a despotic menace from the East.

De Gaulle said France must have its own independent nuclear arsenal, built around a highly mobile striking force capable of prompt action anywhere and at any time, on land, sea and air. Otherwise, France could no longer be master of its own destiny, he said.

About 3,000 officers and noncommissioned officers, including 80 generals and admirals, were summoned to the anchor point of France's eastern frontier from all parts of France, North Africa and elsewhere to hear the president's address.

Silently, as befitting a military statement from their commander in-chief, the men stood at attention in the biting wintry mist, then joined their president in singing the national anthem.

"Our first goal for national defense," De Gaulle said, "is to possess strategic and tactical nuclear warheads, and the means for their delivery, just as long as others have them. We are on the way to this goal."

In brief, De Gaulle was giving his officers a new mission to supplant the excessive preoccupation with Algeria which has threatened to split the army and the nation. He said officers had successfully fulfilled their orders in North Africa, and now must face a global threat — not just a local one.

Soviet Court Sentences Two

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Supreme Court Thursday sentenced two German university students to 12 years confinement on charges of spying for the United States.

It was a stiffer sentence than meted out to American U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, who got 10 years.

The two Germans were Heidelberg students Peter Sonntag, 22, and Walter Naumann, 27.

They came here as tourists and were arrested Sept. 27.

They pleaded in court that they were not really spies, had done little or no espionage and were actually victims of an American intelligence agency.

The military collegium of the court ruled that the two youths would spend three years in prison and the other nine in a corrective labor camp. The Soviet prosecutor had demanded 15 years imprisonment.

End Of Trujillo Regime Is Marked By Renaming City

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)— Dominicans rechristened their capital Thursday, reacted violently once more against the Trujillos who usurped their domain a generation ago, and saw another batch of Trujillos fly off into exile.

The main violence was spent in attacking Trujillo properties.

There was jubilation over the restored name of Santo Domingo to replace the city's name, Ciudad Trujillo, that lasted 25 years.

While rioting again swept the streets, Congress passed without a dissenting voice the request of President Joaquin Balaguer to make the city once again Santo Domingo, the name it bore from the time of Columbus.

The Trujillos had wiped out the name and substituted their own in 1936, six years after Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo established the dictatorship that started to crumble away at his assassination last May 30.

In the city's streets, looters and vandals went on a ransacking rampage, attacking Trujillo homes and properties.

Mobs broke into the luxurious home of Romeo Trujillo, one of the old dictator's brothers, and wrecked it before police arrived. With their ranks swelling, the looters descended on the properties of lesser Trujillos and hit the homes with the destructive force of a tropical storm.

In scattered parts of the city, police hurled noise bombs in a vain effort to contain the crowds. But police avoided the guns and clubs used in the past and the mobs surged on.

At the airport, the last of the Trujillos boarded a Pan American plane for Miami.

In the group was the dictator's aged mother, 96-year-old Julia Molina Trujillo, who was taken to the plane in a wheelchair.

Crowds jeered as the family filed to the plane but fell suddenly silent as Mrs. Trujillo's wheelchair was lifted up to the airliner's door in a hoist.

Also on the plane was Charles McLaughlin, a former Marine sergeant who came here with U.S. occupation forces three decades ago, was befriended by the Trujillos, gave up his U.S. citizenship and became a power in the family. He was made a colonel, and put at the head of the country's airline. His daughter, Alma, married the dictator's brother, Hector, who served as president for eight years.

Hector and other members of the family left earlier this week, forced out by Balaguer with the help of the Dominican air force and a show of support by U.S. ships and planes.

Delegate Says NATO Allies Seek 'Instruments Of War'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A Soviet delegate Thursday accused the United States and its North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies of trying to convert the international atoms-for-peace agency into a NATO instrument of war.

Mrs. Zofia V. Mironova denounced the election of Sweden's Sigvard Eklund as director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency to succeed Sterling Cole of the United States, who retires Nov. 30. She demanded that the agency be reorganized to give it a troika staff of officials composed equally of Western, Communist and nonaligned nationals.

Mrs. Mironova, a deputy chief of the Soviet delegation here, voiced the attack in the U.N. General Assembly.

Other Communist country spokesmen echoed her charges.

Sir Patrick Dean of Britain took strong issue.

He said Mrs. Mironova's speech showed that Soviet motives were entirely political, not intended to further the agency's work.

The Soviet delegate charged that extraordinary controls were imposed on the distribution of the agency's store of fissionable material to underdeveloped countries "because the United States and its allies sought to subordinate the agency to heir military and political interests."

She asserted that Red China and other Communist countries were refused membership in the agency "because their political regime is not to the liking of the United States."

And she said the United States had imposed "its own man, Dr. Eklund" as the agency head over Soviet opposition.

Soviet delegates to the agency walked out after their Indonesian candidate to succeed Cole was defeated in a recent election at the Vienna headquarters.

World Council Seeks More Voice For Man-In-The-Pew

NEW DELHI, Nov. 23 (AP)—Demands were made Thursday that the man-in-the-pew be given greater voice in the World Council of Churches.

With representatives of nearly every element in Christiandom gathered here, an American group declared the voting delegations are "overwhelmingly composed of the clergy."

It was urged that at least one layman be named to the council's presidium as a step toward overcoming this imbalance.

The Rev. Dr. Walter D. Agoner, Princeton, N. J., director of the Fund for Theological Education, said preliminary study indicated 80 to 85 per cent of the 625 voting delegates are clergymen. The church envoys seeking to strengthen bonds among separate branches of the faith come from 18 denominations, with more than 300 million members in 60 nations.

Questioned at a news conference about representation of the laity, Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati, Ohio, Episcopal layman, said about 60 delegates—less than 10 per cent—were nonclergymen.

Of these, he said, 15 are educators and "do not exactly represent the hurly-burly of life."

USAF Plane Is Down In Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A United States Air Force C119 aircraft, struggling to return to the airfield at Whitehorse after reporting an emergency, crashed Thursday night. The fate of the 10 persons aboard was not immediately determined.

Coast Guard headquarters here reported a small civilian plane had flown over the crash scene shortly after the accident. Its pilot said he saw five parachutes in the snow but no sign of life. The C119 had started to burn, he said.

The flight surgeon aboard another Air Force plane, that landed at Whitehorse soon after the C119 crash was sent to the scene by truck. The crash occurred about 30 miles south of Whitehorse and about two miles west of the Yukon-White Pass railroad track.

Antique, Hobby Show In Slate Belt

BANGOR — The opening of the second annual Business, Antique, and Hobby Show will take place on Monday night at 6:30 p.m. in the Blue Valley Farm Show Building. The show will continue through Wednesday. The entire proceeds from the admission will go to the Visiting Nurses Association.

The affair stems from an appeal made in the locality last year for a greater support to the Visiting Nurses drive in order to have the services continues in the community.

The Bangor Business and Professional Women's Club answered the appeal and presented the first business, antique and hobby show in the area. Through the efforts of Miss Alice Rutt and her committee, the show was an overwhelming success.

Word reached the B.P.W. State official and the Bangor Club was presented a citation at the State convention, held in May in Philadelphia for their community interest.

Once again this organization is striving to reach a goal of $2,000.

Business displays will be featured by Lucy Ronca's Yarn Shop, Johnnie Gruver, W. T. Grant's Store, Pritchard's Men's Store, Callie's Candy Kitchen, Steckel's Jewelry Store, Strand Shop, Oyer's Family Shoe Store, Chamber of Commerce, The Bangor Senior Women's Club, Mrs. Pinto's Pastries, Steinmetz Card Shop, Stein's Flower Shop, and Suzanne's Shop.

The Bangor High School Band will render a concert at 8 p.m. Monday and the Pius X High School Band will render one at 7:30 Tuesday night.

The show is dedicated to the memory of Miss Lottie Jewel, who was an active member in the Bangor B.P.W. Club.

Business Failures

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of business failures in October was 12 per cent higher than in September, Dun & Bradstreet reported. It said the October increase was seasonal, centered among smaller-sized companies, and was most pronounced in Illinois. The total was 1,446.

$4,500 Snatched From Safe

THEFT OF approximately $4,500 in cash and checks from a safe in the office of Courtland Beverage Distributing Co., 429 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, was reported to borough and state police yesterday.

Police said the building was entered between 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and 7:15 a.m. yesterday by breaking a window on the side of the structure.

Police Chief Travis J. Seese said the burglars literally knocked the safe apart. "I've never seen one in worse shape," he reported.

A cabinet in the office was also searched, Seese said. Among other things taken were a green canvas bag bearing the name of Stroudsburg Security Bank and a black leather bag with the name of Monroe County National Bank on it. The two banks are now merged as Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co.

Arsenal Of Facts

The average American today knows a surprising number of things that aren't so, and this is a useful fact to ambitious politicians and left-wingers seeking to enlarge the control of government over the population.

One of the President's closest advisors has written in favor of "democratic socialism" with public ownership of "all significant means of production." Many of the most influential men in Washington put the prestige of their offices behind the idea of a "planned economy." Few citizens are prepared to say why such a government-planned economy is undesirable, even though the idea makes them apprehensive.

Lawrence Fertig, economist, educator, businessman and syndicated newspaper columnist, has assembled the arguments for proper separation of governmental police power and private economic enterprise in a new book, "Prosperity Through Freedom." (Henry Regnery Co., $3.95.) The book, simple but not oversimplified, is loaded with facts that refute those who would take the road back to authoritarian government in the name of "moving forward."

Many of Mr. Fertig's conclusions about subsidies, controls, freedom and the welfare state coincide closely with editorial stands taken over the years in this newspaper. But lacking our space limitations, the author has been able to develop the arguments fully, and to organize them into a useful tool for combat against the "coercive state."

More important, he has made a clear statement of the practices and ideology of the American people in their conduct of our traditional free enterprise system. And, in the bargain, he has gathered together the results of experiments in many other lands which have tried statist policies America now is being urged to adopt.

Mr. Fertig's approach is tempered, reasoned and calm. He is aware of the rights of all segments of our society, and of their responsibilities as well.

The work truly is a hand-book of free enterprise, winking at none of its problems, but making plain that our system still makes the best promise of liberty and material well-being of any that ever has been tried.

Pennsylvania's Department Forests and Waters is exhibiting an imaginative response to the public's increasing use of recreational facilities in this state. In the past six years the number of annual visitors to the state park system has risen from 9 million to 25 million. Pennsylvania's parks make up the third most heavily used in the nation.

Since 1955 the number of recreational facilities, administered by the Department of Forests and Waters under Secretary Maurice K. Goddard, has increased from 45 to 73. In an effort to keep pace with public use, the department has 14 new projects in various stages of development, some under construction and others in the design phase. Beyond these, 23 proposed park sites are earmarked for development in the next decade. The department's goal is to have a state park within at least 25 miles of every Pennsylvanian.

The Department of Forests and Waters objective is desirable not only from the standpoint of providing healthful and enjoyable recreation, but also from the standpoint of preserving parts of the state's woodland heritage in their natural state. Parks serve as reminders of values which urban dwellers should strive to maintain to some extent wherever they live.

Rockefeller's Misfortunes

The United States has an astonishing divorce rate but when we find our public men doing as we do, we tear their eyes out. Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York was, up to this week, the leading aspirant for the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1964. Then his wife started action for divorce and the puritanical attitude of our people asserted itself.

Up to the moment of the announced divorce, Rockefeller was regarded as an extraordinarily devout Baptist, the son and grandson of extraordinarily devout Baptists, although actually we know nothing about the private lives of any of these persons or of any others unless we are members of their families or extremely intimate friends.

It used to be customary in this country for the husband to drive his wife into the biting cold and snow when she sinned. The husband was expected to sin and if he misbehaved too overtly, his wife sued for divorce; it was unmannerly for a man to denounce the morals of his wife. Now, either one asserts moral superiority and turns to the courts to demand righteous treatment. Usually, both are to blame.

The public generally assumes that there are two causes for divorce: adultery and miserliness. Actually all sorts of abuses occur in a family which lead to its collapse. The word, incompatibility, is often used to cover a multitude of errors.

It is a little hard to understand why a man and woman have been married 31 years, should want to be divorced. It seems a waste of time. If incompatibility is the reason, the intervening period has been too long for any novel misunderstanding. If it is adultery, the likelihood is that no sudden discovery is the motive. In the case of the Rockefellers, it cannot be miserliness or excessive expenditures. There is no advantage in speculation and the conclusion must be reached that there is some miserable pride in all this.

But the public is likely to search for hidden motives and this search, rather than the unavailable truth, will damage Nelson Rockefeller's political career. The divorce comes at a moment when he is to run for his second term for Governor and upon this election depends his prospects for the Presidency. No divorced man has been elected President of the United States, although there is no law against it. Grover Cleveland was chosen for the Presidency despite a generally accepted illicit parenthood on his part.

Woodrow Wilson suffered a mass of rumors of an improper relationship with the wife of a colleague at Princeton. Actually a Congressional committee indirectly investigated this matter when Justice Brandeis' confirmation came before the Senate. I have learned who helped Wilson over this tough spot but am pledged to silence which I shall keep, as the matter is of no personal or historic importance.

There were always tales about Franklin D. Roosevelt, most of which sounded impossible and ridiculous. Adlai Stevenson was divorced when he was Governor of Illinois and this led to a series of rumors, most of them too vile to repeat. The public jumps at every possibility of moral turpitude, since as a matter of fact, these personal tragedies are not anything that the public knows and they leave a sad memory that lasts through life. Anthony Eden's career was nearly wrecked by a divorce; the Duke of Windsor was forced to give up his crown because he married a divorced woman.

There is considerable unfairness in all this because it is not known which is the guilty party. For instance, Princess Margaret was not permitted to marry Peter Townsend because he was a divorced man, although admittedly innocent.

I have no inside dope on the Rockefeller situation. Cholly Knickerbocker, the society columnist, who is more reliable than most in his trade, has written about it, but he apparently knows mo more than any of the rest of us, which is unusual because he has a penschant for uncovering the foibles of others.

The conclusion must be reached from the available information that here are two adults who should have better sense and who should kiss and make up. No political adversary of Nelson Rockefeller wants any kind of gain out of this sort of tragedy. Surely Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon would rather defeat him in the Convention than in the bed-chamber.

The Pennsylvania Story

Reporters Notebook

Bird-Day-Plus-One — Today finds Pennsylvania's Capitol Hill "stuffed" with emptiness, quiet and closed doors. . .It is Bird-Day-plus-one on the four-day Thanksgiving week end schedule for the thousands of state workers who started leaving Wednesday for the big week end, and it might be said, a stuffing on the home front.

Governor Lawrence and Pennsylvania's First Lady up to press time were not planning to spend the week end at home in Pittsburgh, but rather in either New York or Atlantic City, finishing their first "official" vacation in two years... Mr. Lawrence is due back in the gubernatorial sanctum Monday.

One of the Governor's aides when asked this week what the plans might be for the Thanksgiving week end, commented with some head-scratching: "Well, he's just playing this vacation thing by ear — in other words, as he goes along... He just may wind up at home in Pittsburgh but indications are now that he will be in either New York City or Atlantic City — no kids, just he and Mrs. Lawrence."

"Drones, Incorporated' — There were some amused eyebrow-raising around Capitol Hill this week following formal adoption of a resolution by the Pennsylvania State Employes Council at its 23rd annual convention here calling on Democrats and Republicans to "stop degrading public workers during political campaigns."

Union President Reuben H. Miller asserted that the "degradation" tends to "lower the prestige" of public workers as "drones."

Curiously, the lower-the-prestige charge was made just a few days before taxpayer-supported state payrollers began readying their desks for a four-day Thanksgiving week end with most starting the pullout Wednesday — while non-taxpayer-supported private industry downtown and elsewhere "ran by the clock" closing down at the end of business Wednesday, with many re-opening today.

To Council President Miller: while the point unquestionably is well taken, the time certainly hasnt arrived yet when respect and prestige can be "legislated"? . . Deeds and actions are still the determing factors!

Try and Stop Me

A real estate agent was showing a very blonde, very well developed female through a luxurious new cooperative apartment. "Now in this wing," said the agent "We have the master bedroom, bath and den."

The blonde interrupted suspiciously, "And den what?"

Overheard in the garment district: "I'm truly sorry, Max, but if I let you take off two hours for lunch today, I'd have to do the same thing for every other cutter in the place whose wife gave birth to quadruplets!"

Off The Record

Wild Bill doesn't have a mustache and naturally he couldn't pull it for the last time. But the precedent-breaking Altier is making more than just history now that he has embarked on a history-making third term as president of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau.

The leader of 246 area resort hotel, motel and recreation facility operators is just as famous to his horde as Wild Bill of the Dangerous Dan McGraw era. While Wild Bill gained his fame for his card playing in the bygone Western days, Altier has promoted the Pocono Mountains just as dutifully as McGrew's warm pal of the Okay Corral Days.

To show you that Altier's mind is always working, the energetic PMVB's czar predicted recently:

"The Poconos have been sitting up her for years and unfortunately too many people, including the resort owners themselves, have taken them for granted.

"In the past few years we have improved our facilities and have promoted them properly, and we feel our mountain resort area will have the best season we've ever known next year.

To pinpoint his remarks, Altier said, "specific reservations for next summer are far ahead of last year; 52 new members have been added to the Vacation Bureau roster this past year for an all-time record membership; application requests from prospective new members are coming in regularly; and a large number of inquiries have been received from resort operators in other areas asking about resort property which might be available in the Pocono area."

Bill, a man who doesn't know of the word tired, works around the clock for the Vacation Bureau. In fact his own establishment near Marshalls Creek sees less of him than the PMVB. But that's allright with William as long as his efforts pay off in increased interest to the closet thing to his heart—The Pocono Mountains.

Altier is one of those one-in-a-million personalties that could weave together a herd of wild animals and make them think in a sensible and beneficial manner. His forgoing of the Eastern Poconos, Top Of The Mountains, and Lake Wallenpaupack areas, for example, banded a much stronger Vacation Bureau.

Since he came into office,' Altier has actually molded a pup to a dog. His accomplishments are many, including the revival of the spring Laurel Blossom Festival, promoting the Poconos on a year-around basis, increasing interest in weekend and off-season facilities, setting up a budget that operates in a big-league style; leading with a drive which got state funds; and initiating a public relations idea with far flung tentacles.

In its 40 years of existence the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau has made great strides to bill the area as "The Vacationland" of the East.

In less than three terms as head of the organization Altier has achieved the same success and propelled the Poconos to the perch that today it is synonymous to the Borscht Circuit, Seashore and North Woods.

What more could an organization ask of a dedicated man, except possibly a couple of more terms.

Goldwater's '64 Plan

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Senator Barry Goldwater already is quite certain about one controversial aspect of the next presidential race.

The Arizonan has no intention of entering any of the state primaries.

With the presidential contest still years off, he is saying nothing publicly about this for the present. But Goldwater has imparted that important decision to close friends.

In effect, it is his answer to former Vice President Nixon's recent assertion that Republican aspirants for the 1964 nomination will have to test their popular standing by running in the various state primaries. But that is emphatically not the way Goldwater sees it—regardless of what Governor Rockefeller or any other candidate may do.

A key factor in Goldwater's backstage decision is that he is up for re-election that year.

He will definiately seek another Senate term. That is his first concern, and he will concentrate his principal efforts on it. Goldwater is taking no chances on losing his Senate seat by running for the White House at the same time. Staying in the Senate is his first and primary interest.

As he told a colleague, "I plan to file for re-election to the Senate and work hard at it. I will not enter any of the Presidential primaries regardless of what anyone else does."

In contrast to Goldwater's position, Governor Rockefeller apparently contemplates doing exactly the opposite.

Significantly indicative of that are two studies he is having made of state presidential primaries. One deals with the legal aspects of these contests, and the other with the effects of primries, particularly in the 1960 presidential race.

But like Goldwater, the New York Governor is doing no public talking about primaries until after his own re-election campaign next year.

However, he and his political advisers are definitely laying the ground to tackle them in 1964. They now deem that even more important since the announcement that his wife is divorcing him.

The state primaries are viewed as a sure-fire method of determining public reaction to his marital break-up.

Politicals—President Kennedy will recommend new civil rights legislation in the coming session of Congress. He disclosed this to Democratic leaders during last week's Western tour. The scope and details of the proposed measure were not divulged, but the President definitely indicated he would urge a civil rights bill . . . Representative Carl Albert, Okla., leading candidate for Majority Leader, is a Rhodes Scholar . . . Former Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr, is letting it be known he is willing to run against Governor Rockefeller next year on two conditions: That President Kennedy vigorously campaigns for him; and that all factions in New York's bitterly-split Democratic party support him.

Since Congress adjourned September 26, Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert Humphrey, Minn., has rung up an extraordinary record. He has visited some 20 countries, and conferred with several score important government leaders. Foremost among them are Prime Minister Macmillan, Chancellor Adenauer, Italian Premier Fanfani, Mayor Willy Brandt, French Foreign Minister Couve deMurville, Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak, Poland's Communist ruler Gomulka, President Gamal Nasser, Jordan's King Hussein, Premier Ben-Gurion, Greek Prime Minister Karamanlis, and a number of Latin American leaders.

Representative Adam Clayton Powell, D, N.Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee, apparently is serious about retiring. He is building a big, expensive home in Puerto Rico and making preparations to live there permanently. Powell took a shellacking in the recent New York mayoralty hassle. He opposed the re-election of Mayor Wagner, but Harlem went heavily for him . . . Senator John Hickey, D, Wyo., is the first alumnus of Wyoming University to serve in the Senate. In recognition of that, he has been awarded the Alumni Association's annual medal for "outstanding individual achievement."

What He'd Read — What six books yould you choose if they were the only ones you could have to read?

The Boston Public Library asked that question of Representative John McCormack, Mass., due to be the next Speaker. The Bible and Shakespeare were excluded as "universal musts." Flolowing is McCormack's list and his reasons for selecting them:

"The United States Consitiution Annotated—because it is the basis of our government.

"The Writings of Thomas Jefferson—because here is represented the ideals of our early American republic.

"The Summa Theologica—St. Thomas Aquinas—because here we find the basic Christian theology and philosophy in which the Entire Western civilization is constructed.

"Dante's Divine Comedy—which represents the greatest artistic achievement in the medieval world.

"Handbook of Chemistry and Physics—Hodgman& Lang—from this book we could reconstruct most of all the science now known to us.

"History of Technology—Charles Singer, et al—from this book we could reconstruct most all of our material civilization.

"As indicated by these brief summaries, my reasons for selecting these six books are: In one, we could summarize all the basic religious philosophy and orientation of our civilization. In two of the books, we can find the American political ideology and outlook. In two other books, we have, in substance, our material culture in chemistry and psychology, and in the sixth book, we find the epitome of the Rennaissance that contributed so much to Western though and expression."

Social Whirl — Thanksgiving opened the Capital's winter debut seasen. Twenty three socially prominent young ladies made their bows Thursday evening at the annual Debutante Cotillion. Theme of the event was the Cinderella story, complete with a white coach in the middle of the dance floor, flanked by four columns draped with garlands of red roses. All the debbies were dressed in traditional white gowns and carried bouquets of red roses . . . Culinary feature of the stag dinner Korea's ruling General Chung Hee Park gave for Secretary Dean Rusk was "Shin Lun Lo"—a casserole of fish, beef, gingko seed, mushrooms, green onions and spiced eggs—all served piping hot. Everyone seemed to relish it, and there were no casualties . . . A prayer is inscribed on the mantel of the fireplace in the main dining room of the White House, as follows: "I pray heaven to bestow the best of blessings on This House, and on all that shall hereafter inhabit it. May none but honest and wise men rule under this roof. John Adams—Nov. 2, 1800."

Inside You And Yours

Frosty Bite Of Hot Water

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.

Imagine! Frostbite from hot water!

Jim knows.

While he shoveled drifts during last year's blizzard, wet snow froze his feet into giant ice cubes. Blood flow slowed to thick sludge, as fluid oozed out to swell freezing feet.

Icy-wet socks ground into his frozen flesh and yet each foot tingled and burned.

His red, swollen feet resembled a 1 degree burn—a 1 degree freeze. Bulging blisters mean a 2 degree freeze. And black gangrene—a 3 degree freeze—looks like charred 3 degree burns.

When Jim plunged his feet into hot water, tingling grew into sharp-pointed barbs. Working again, thawed cells were screaming for oxygen-rich blood that couldn't squeeze past frozen sludge. Before his feet cooled, the tip of one toe turned frostbite-black.

How To Defrost

Defrost frozen feet at body temperature, in water or under an electric blanket. At the first sign of thawing, switch to room temperature.

If you have sluggish circulation, slow defrosting with ice packs and cool air until blood can bring all the oxygen working cells demand. And call your doctor!

You may need medicines to relax blood vessels and relieve pain; also limbering-up exercises to prevent permanently-frozen joints. The surgeon has to clear away dead tissue where germs breed and thrive.

Jim escaped with only a lock-jaw-preventing booster shot. Soft dry bandages—bulky enough to cushion any bruise—soothed his feet. No ointments! They grind into delicate damaged tissue.

Feet Proopped Up

A large cardboard box kept the weight of heavy sheets and blankets off Jim's feet, propped on pillows to help blood drain.

Even today his feet tingle and burn occasionally. His toes seem allergic to cold. The slightest chill turns them ghostly white.

Jim realizes how that hot foot-bath almost cost him both feet. He even shudders a little when his wife defrosts the refrigerator with basins of hot water.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

A SPOKESMAN for the Holy Name Society of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg, said last night some people were missed in the recent clothing drive.

He requested that anyone having old clothing to contribute should telephone Jack Gargone at HA 1-3244 or Charles Baker at HA 1-8647. Both of the men will make arrangements to have the articles picked up.

Family Put On Chicken Diet

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — The Lombardi family of Erie is on a chicken diet. They must eat one chicken a week for the next 28 weeks.

The diet was ordered by city council after a hearing on complaints from neighbors that Mrs. Mary Lombardi was raising 40 chickens in her backyard.

Housing inspector James McLaughlin ruled that Mrs. Lombardi was permitted to raise 12 chickens. The rest must go, he said.

Albert Lombardi, appearing for his mother, told city council it would be difficult to get rid of that many chickens in one week.

"They are all old chickens and nobody wants to buy old chickens," he said. "We can't even eat that many in one week."

Then Streets Director Victor Glembocki found a solution.

"Every chicken gone is an improvement, right?" he asked. "Therefore, if they eat one chicken a week, they could get rid of four chickens a month."

Glembocki suggested that a monthly check be made to see that four more chickens were gone.

Berwick To Get Two State Loans

HARRISBURG (AP)—The community of Berwick in Columbia County, rocked by the prospective closing of its main industry, is in line for two state industrial development loans totaling $57,600.

Approval of the loans by the Pennsylvania Industrial Development authority was announced Wednesday by J. Erice Jones, acting secretary of commerce.

Jones said the money would help projects expected to provide some 125 new jobs at Berwick.

The PIDA approved a loan for $32,000 to help the Fulton Manufacturing Co., Inc., expand its plant and another loan for $25,600 to help provide facilities for the Stellar Optical Manufacturing Co. Inc.

The Fulton project, estimated at $80,000 would mean new jobs for some 75 persons. The Stellar plan, costing an estimated $64,000, would provide employment for about 50 persons by the end of the year and, by company estimates, 100 persons after three years.

CLU Head Endorses TB Seals Drive

STUART Pipher, of Tannersville, president of the Central Labor Union of Monroe and Pike Counties, yesterday endorsed the annual Christmas Seal sale of the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

In a letter to Elwood Hintze, president of the society, Pipher wrote:

"The annual sale of Christmas Seals has produced enormous benefits for all the American people. However, much work remains to be done.

"The AFL-CIO is proud of its members, whose voluntary work and contributions in the annual Christmas Seal sale have aided the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society in the fight against tuberculosis.

"On behalf of labor, it is a pleasure for me to encourage all AFL-CIO members to buy their 1961 Christmas Seals now. As part of organized labor's program of public service, I know union members will carry on the fight against tuberculosis by buying and using Christmas Seals."

Four Hotels Hit By Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four major Pittsburgh hotels were hit by a strike of operating engineers Thursday in a dispute over wages. But in a short time one hotel came to terms.

Picket lines were set up at the Pittsburgh - Hilton, Pittsburgher, Pick-Roosevelt and Webster Hall, but later withdrawn at Webster Hall when that hotel signed a three-year contract.

Some 40 employes took part in the strike at first. The number dropped to about 30 with the Webster Hall settlement.

Jefferson Whalen, union business representative, said the Webster Hall settlement provided a 14-cent hourly wage increase in the first year and 13 cents for each of the next two years.

Engineers of the four hotels had been working under a contract extension since Nov. 1. Wage scales in the old pact were not given.

Whalen said negotiations were continuing.

The strikers are members of Local 95 of the Operating Engineers Union.

'Good Samaritan' Theme For Visit Of Bloodmobile

THE next visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the Stroudsburgs area is under the auspices of the Monroe County Ministerium. The Bloomobile will be at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church Wednesday, Nov. 29 between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Upon acceptance of the date and place for this visit of the bloodmobile, the Ministerium made Rev. Luther Markin chairman of publicity.

A number of novel ways of presenting the vital cause have already been projected by Rev. Markin. Among other motivations it has been suggested that the whole bloodmobile program be viewed as a modern interpretation of the ever popular parable on The Good Samaritan.

Rev. Markin said it will be remembered in the parable that a man journeying from Jerusalem to Jericho fell among thieves, who beat him and left him half dead by the highway. As he lay there, a priest and a Levite passed him, envisioned his plight but passed by on the other side. Then came the "Good Samaritan" who bent over the injured man; lifted him up; set him on his own beast—took him to an inn and cared for him; even leaving provision for his complete convalescence.

It has been suggested that there were three Philosophies that met in the story by our Lord—the first that of the robber band whose way of life could be tersely stated in, "What's yours is mine, I'll take it."

Here is the grievous way of the agressor, the dictator, the tyrant, the thief. The second philosophy, that of the priest and the Levite, who pass by on the other side. And this was their way of life: "What's mine is mine, I'll keep it." But the Good Samaritan, like our Lord Himself, had his philosophy: "What's mine is yours, take it."

And although Jesus did not say these words immediately thereafter in the gospels, He later stated: "He that would save his life will lose it. He that shall lose his life for My sake and the gospels will save it."

It is this great principle of self giving that has become the motivation for Christian concern and labor across the centuries, and in this immediate need for adequate blood to maintain the local hospital's supply, has become the focal urge to men and women who are responding and who will respond next Wednesday, Rev. Markin said.

Two Killed In Auto Crash

ROCHESTER, Pa. (AP) — A speeding automobile ran out of control, plunged down a 75-foot embankment and burst into flames in this Beaver County town yesterday, killing the cars' two woman occupants.

Killed were Mrs. Virginia Rush, 61, of Newell, W.Va. and Mrs. Frank Lucas, 70, of Midland, Pa. Mrs. Rush was driving.

According to Beaver police, the fiery crash ended a bizarre ride at speeds up to 85 miles an hour. Police theorized the car went haywire due to a mechanical trouble, maybe a stuck gas pedal.

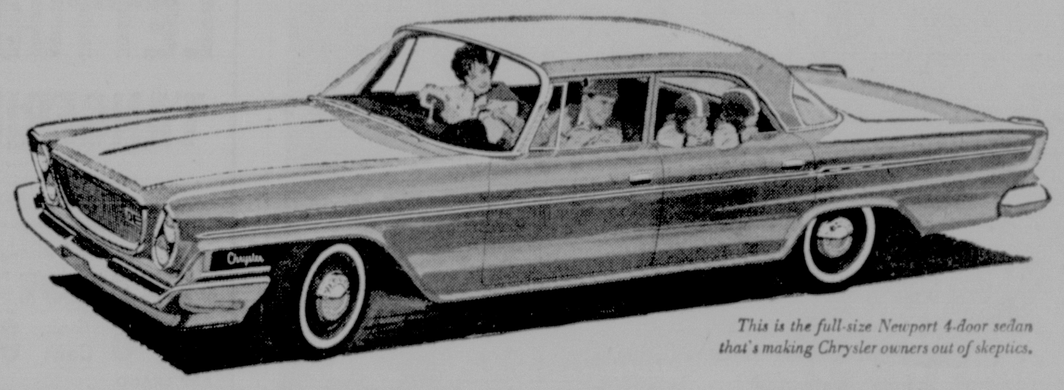

THE availability of aerospace scientists and engineers can be doubled in the next 10 years if science education receives adequate financial support, according to a study released by the National Science Foundation.

Destructive Fire

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Fire wiped out a barn on the farm of Warren Shantz near neighboring Spring City yesterday, killed 29 head of cattle, and destroyed feed and equipment. Shantz had not estimated damage. It was the third fire in the area in the last five days. Sunday flames razed a barn owned by Paul Huston, killed 15 head of cattle, and caused, by Huston's estimate, $35,000 damage.

Now is the time to erect an enduring Memorial, an appropriate expression of love and respect to those near and dear.

Green Thumb

Pine Or Spruce Cones For Flames

THE GREEN THUMB
By GEORGE ABRAHAM

TREATING Pine Cones: Each year at this time I receive many letters from our readers asking us for Information on treating pine cones so they'll produce rainbow flames in the fireplace.

You can use pine or spruce cones, or even small blocks of well-dried wood. Then you'll have to decide what colors you want. Your drug store will carry the various chemicals and it might be a good idea if a group would get together to buy the materials and share the cost. Here are the chemicals to use and the colors they produce? Barium nitrate (blue); copper sulfate (bluish); strontium nitrate (red); calcium chloride (orange); copper chloride (green); lithium chloride or potassium permanganate (purple).

The simplest and best method for treating is to dip the cones or blocks into a solution of the chemical. Dissolve the chemical in water at rate of one pound to a gallon of water. Place cones in a cloth mesh bag, such as an old onion or potato sack, and immerse in the liquid.

Use rubber gloves as the materials are apt to stain. After soaking cones in the solution for 10 to 15 minutes, let them drain and then spread on newspapers to dry overnight. When dry they are ready to use in the fireplace.

Plants Under Lights: During the cloudy days of winter some gardeners like to start seeds and cuttings under light indoors. Which is best, the incandescent bulb or fluorescent tubes? Plants under incandescent (bulb type) light will supplement natural light, but care must be taken or the heat will burn the young plants.

Plants under light bulbs need the help of some daylight, but those under fluorescent lights can do without. You can grow young plants under fluorescent lights in any dark corner in the cellar, and we call this a "Poor man's Greenhouse".

Use a 20 watt, 24" tube to grow 30 three inch pots, or four small flats of soil. Give 12 to 16 hours of light a day. The longer the better, and you'll have to experiment for the best time of exposure.

In general, you'll find your blooms as nice in size and color as those grown in a regular greenhouse. Why not get yourself a couple lights and build yourself a winter garden in the basement?

Keeping Apples: A reader writes: "last year I experimented with plastic bags for keeping apples. I placed the fruit in the bags and kept them in a cool place and they stored perfectly for months. The moisture was kept inside and apples didn't shrivel a bit."

Young Magnolias: If you set out a magnolia tree, the only care it needs in winter is to water it well, and then wrap burlap around it (or aluminum foil) to prevent bark from drying out.

Star and Saucer magnolias are hardy and will not winterkill although they may suffer from drying out, or they may be injured by rabbits or mice. The outside wrapping will protect them from sun, wind and rodents.

The Voodoo Plant: I've been asked for information about the Voo doo plant, and since many plants are called "Voo-doo" I'm not sure just which is the correct one.

The Voo doo bulb, also called "Monarch of the East" (Sauromatum guttatum) likes a bright window and mellow soil. Water sparingly after it is potted, and after the sprout is up three or four inches, apply; more water.

After all leaves are out, plant can be watered daily. When bloom has finished, the decorative palm-like foliage on marble-like stems grow quickly. Support with bamboo stakes and continue to grow indoors until shirt-sleeve weather comes, when the bulb can be grown outdoors until fall.

Another so-called Voodoo plant is Sacred Lily of India (Hydrosme) which produces a foul, revolting odor. This item takes no special care except that it likes a bright window, ample moisture and a warm room.

Free: Want a good bulletin on such odd items as Hoya (Wax) plant, Bird of Paradise, Jade Plant, Hawaiian Ti plant and the Voodoo bulb? I have information on these plants in my combination bulletin, How To Grow Bird of Paradise: Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for your copy. No postal cards, or loose stamps or clippings, please:

Rhubarb Notes: If your rhubarb plants died down completely, don't worry about it. This is natural and nothing to fret over. Rhubarb goes dormant and leaves shrivel up completely. Next spring you'll find new growth poking up as soon as warm sunny days start.

Winter Heaving: One factor that kills perennials is heaving, and this is due to alternate freezing and thawing of the soil surface. This heaves the plants completely out of the soil.

Young or newly set plants tend to heave more than mature ones because there are fewer roots for the former to serve as an anchor. Plants in a heavy soil heave worse than those in a sandy soil, or one with ample organic matter. That's why, it's a good idea to save leaves, clippings, etc. for composting and incorporating into the soil.

Mulching is another way to cut down on heaving.

Peat, buckwheat hulls, sawdust, cocoa bean shells, applied in a two inch layer are helpful.

There are plants which NEVER should be mulched, and these include peonies, delphinium, iris, and all items which stay green all winter. These include, poppies, lilies, foxglove, canterbury bells, to name a few. A mulch over these will smother the plants.

As a general rule, "succulent" plants, those whose stems are more or less juicy, should not be mulched. Shrubs, trees, and evergreens can stand a layer of mulch without any danger of suffocating the roots.

Bulb beds do not require mulching. Usually a straw covering over them will encourage mice to dig in and do more damage than winter could do.

Horizons Scheduled For Sunday

THE HORIZONS program, heard weekly on WVPO at 3:00 p.m. on Sundays, will feature two student-oriented programs on Sunday, Nov. 26.

On the first half hour entitled "Students from Aboard" Miss Nuala Downey, exchange student from New Zealand now attending East Stroudsburg State College, will discuss life in the United States and her home country with Miss Betsy Rinehart, Palmerton, president of the Women's Executive Council at ESSC, and John Dunleavy, Scranton, president of the ESSC Student Senate.

On the second half hour, student editors of the Stroud Courier, semi-monthly publication at ESSC, will discuss "Editing a College Newspaper."

Participating in the discussion will be Nancy Capozzolo, Bangor, Tony Messenlehner, Northampton, and Ken Davis, Sharon Hill. Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg, co-ordinator, serves as moderator of both programs.

Pocono Catholic Honor Roll

SISTER M. Annette, principal of Pocono Catholic Missions Schools, Cresco, announced last night the honor roll for the first marking period.

High Honors — Joseph Ashcroft, Susan Baker, Nancy Talpas, Sonja Storm and Catherine Swabowicz.

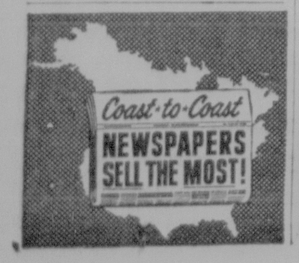

Second Honors — Patricia Flaherty, Darlene Smith, Michael Natishyn and Michael Perry.

King Tut Exhibit

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Minister of Culture Sarwat Okasha said Tuesday the exhibition of King Tutankhamen treasures which opened in Washington Nov. 3 will be shown in 18 major American cities.

Okasha said the government has decided to extend the period of exhibition to two years.

Question Box

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

QUESTION of the Week: S.N., of Stroudsburg: "We raised some Jerusalem cherries from seed. The plants are a foot tall, and the mother plant which was outdoors was brought in before cold weather. Please tell me what can be done to get the plants to set friuts. Those that do set drop immediately."

This is a popular item for the Christmas holidays, its chief value being the scarlet or yellowish berries. Florists bring the plants in from outdoors, pot them in 5 inch pots and keep them in a cool place until around Christmas.

Usually the friut must be set and starting to color up nicely at the time the plants are dug in the fall, otherwise they will be of little value. Flowering usually starts in summer and continues until September, and the friut matures during the fall months.

Failure of fruit to set is not really understood, but chances are the same factors are involved here as with a lack of fruit set on garden tomatoes and peppers. These are high temperatures, and possibly a lack of light. Fruit dropping accompanied by leaf shedding can be attributed to low temperatures, lack of water at time of potting or later, gas leak indoors, and overmaturity. It's natural for dead ripe berries to drop.

C.N. of Canadensis: "I see that rabbits or mice have started to chew on our young friut trees, even though we white-washed them. What's the best way to protect our plants?"

Whitewash is a useless control measure. Wrap your young trees with building paper, newspaper, aluminum foil, aluminum mesh, or hardware cloth. These materials cost you anywhere from .06 cents to .25 cents per tree. Multiple stem shrubs are hard to wrap, so your best bet is to spray these with chemical repellents, available from most garden supply centers. Always keep sod peeled away from the base of your trees and shrubs to discourage mice.

C.B. of Scotrun: "We planted Climbing Roses last spring and while they made a lot of growth, only a few flowers were present. Do you think they are wild plants?"

Usually climbing roses bloom sparsely, if at all the first season after planting. Usually the first year the plant devotes its energy to establishing itself, and you shouldn't expect many flowers. The second season should bring you many blossoms.

Cadillac

A matter of minutes confirmed its fame!

He had heard and read a great deal about this 1962 Cadillac over the past several months.

And frankly, he wondered if any motor car could live up to the compliments that have come the way of this new "car of cars".

Well, he has just spent thirty minutes at the wheel—and the evidence is unmistakable.

Exhibit A: the way it looks. Inside and out, Cadillac styling has an undeniable sense of "rightness" about it. And its colors and fabrics are all master touches of elegance and luxury.

Exhibit B: the way it rides and handles. Boulevard or back trail, this one takes the road with incredible ease. Steering is little more than a gesture . . . and the car's ride is so level and smooth and quiet that it seems almost to float over the highway.

Exhibit C: the way it's built. The car is crafted to the most meticulous standards that can be placed over the manufacture of an automobile—and more than 1400 inspections now guard the production of every model. Here is quality that can be seen, and felt and sensed.

The verdict, of course, is indisputable. This is the zenith of sixty years of fine-car design and engineering. This is a Cadillac among Cadillacs.

We suggest, however, that you visit your dealer's showroom soon and act as your own jury. He'll be happy to present the case for Cadillac at any time.

N'fld Journalist Remembers Connie

NEWFOUNDLAND — "I remember Connie!"

That was the thought of the Newfoundland correspondent for The Daily Record when she read in that paper that Mrs. Alfred "Connie" Wolf has topped the Russian-held record for world balloon endurance this week.

Connie—Mrs. Alfred Wolf of "Wingover," Blue Bell, has always been making headlines. Everything she does is exciting, and on a grand scale.

Ten years ago, in a by-lined story for the Norristown Times-Herald, the local correspondent, interviewed Mrs. Wolf on the eve of her departure for Germany where her husband, Lt. Col. Wolf, was stationed at Wiesbaden.

Mrs. Wolf was weighing her choice of luggage—should she take her coffee grinder along with her good old American coffee? How would her treasures fit in with the furnishings that her husband described as of the "Mid-Ex-G.I. and Early Quartermaster" period?

Her plans included the purchase of an automobile in Europe and the chartering of a plane for her use while she remained in Germany. She expected to spend a month in London with Joan Fontaine, who was currently making "Ivanhoe" in England, for Mrs. Wolf was Miss Fontaine's manager in New York City.

She had set aside some time for a visit to Moscow, where a friend, Mrs. Joel Trivola, the former Miss Eli Jacobsen, a Danish girl from Copenhagen, was living with her husband in the Finnish embassy.

At Wingover, among the treasures she was leaving while she traveled in Germany, were paintings and sketches by her friend, John Falter, Saturday Evening Post illustrator . . . a South American pottery water jug which was a gift from Sasha Siemel, "The Tigre Man," . . . an inscribed silver trowel with which she laid the cornerstone of the Dominion of Canada Parliament Building . . . a musical "potato" from Russia . . . a tiny, carved, Swedish sailing craft . . . and many lovely antiquues.

Connie Wolf never did anything half way. One time she decided to take guests to a college football game. So she invited the fifth and sixth grade students from a local school, and was the most enthusiastic rooter among the crowd of some 50 guests. One of her treasured mementos is a letter written to her after the game, at which everybody had a wonderful time. It was painstakingly written and only a trifle misspelled. It began: "Dear Fiend," and it gave Connie one of the best laughs of her life!

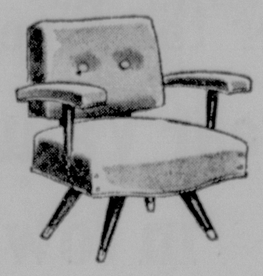

Ballooning has long been an interest of both of the Wolfs. A well-remembered incident occurred in Brussels, when a balloon was accidentally released when the crew members who were holding it snapped to attention during the playing of the National Anthem.

Yes, I remember Connie . . . and as always, she is having a wonderful time . . . and still making headlines.

What Young People Think

Don't Rope Me In, Say Teeners

Gilbert Youth Service

THE teen years are traditionally the time when American youngsters begin straining at the reins of parental supervision—and the current crop of teen-agers is no exception.

Few members of today's younger generation feel they need strict supervision over their lives and many think that any supervision at all is completely unnecessary.

The youngsters views on the subject came up in our latest survey of 1,014 teen-agers across the country. The subjects discussed included curfews, weekend dates, teen-aged drinking and school and church attendance.

Less than one in 10 say they feel they should have a strict curfew set by their parents.

Nearly three in 10 feel they don't need any supervision at all—or as Alan W. Chirish, 17, of Jersey City, N.J., put it: "I believe that I am responsible and sensible enough so that I do not need any supervision in curfews."

About two in 10 teen-agers feel they should have some supervision, but not much, while another two in 10 told us that the matter of a supervised curfew should be ironed out between the kids and their parents.

Just A Compromise

A curfew, to Judy Griffin, a 15-year-old Seabrook Acres, Md., girl, is "just a reasonable compromise between parent and child."

The youngsters are almost evenly divided on the matter of supervised dating on weekends. Slightly more than three in 10 want no supervision at all, while slightly less than three in 10 want it. The others feel there should be very little or it should be left up to the individual.

"It is almost impossible to control weekend dating," said Loo Oestreicher, 17, of New York "Parents can only hope that their children will be sensible and lucky."

"There should be supervision," added Marilyn Lucye, 17, of Worcester, Mass., "but very little for I feel we are old enough to make our own decisions."

Nearly two in 10 said they are against all drinking. Said Gwyneth Helie, 16, of Worcester, Mass.: "I don't think I should be allowed to drink and I have no desire to."

Another two in 10 said they believe in strict supervision of drinking until the age of 21. Still another two in 10 said they would settle for well-supervised drinking.

Girls Are More Strict

"We are going to drink with or without supervision and there's really nothing anybody can supervise," said 16-year-old Bobbi Park of Grand Rapids, Mich., representing the one in four who think there should be no supervision.

Generally, it was the girls who favored no drinking at all or heavily supervised drinking while the boys were more lenient on the subject.

The youngsters were about evenly divided on supervision of school attendance with one in four believing in none at all and a like number favoring quite a bit.

"Students should be made to attend classes," Jane Anderson, 16, of Wilmington, Del., told us.

"If you are there by force, you don't learn," contradicted Mary Wreford, 15, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

"It all depends on the person," equivocated Brock Hannsen, 17, of New York. "There's no point in supervising someone who doesn't need it. And firmness and understanding will help someone who does need it."

Church attendance turned out to be a different matter.

About one in four said they think going to church should be well supervised because, as Pat Stephens, 14, of San Leandro Calif., put it, "it's our obligation."

Less than one in five said they feel supervision of church attendance is unnecessary because, said Phyllis Weishaus, 18, of New York, "religion is a matter of personal conviction."

It was left to a 17-year-old New Yorker, Robert Haupt, to have an unusual reason for wanting a bit of supervision on the Sabbath. Said Robert:

"It's hard to get out of bed early Sunday morning."

Problem Letters

Dear Mr. Gilbert,

I'm terribly tall for my age—5 foot 7 inches at 15—and all the boys in my grade are shrimps. Dances are agony for me, and yet my mother thinks it's good experience for me to go. The only experience I have is practicing a frozen smile from the sidelines while the cute little girls have a ball. Who's right?

Diana G.
Chicago

Dear Diana,

While you're waiting for the boys to shoot up, how about skipping the formal dances, and organizing the kind of party where height is unimportant? A Christmas tree-trimming party, an open house after a game—with emphasis on good, an informal mixer where you're not paired off will keep you on the social list. Enlist your mother's cooperation. (In another year, the boys may be six-footers!)

Worker Is Shot, Two Are Held

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A construction worker at the Naval Auxiliary Air Base here was shot to death last night and officers took a man and woman into custody.

Deputy Sheriff Alton Allen identified the dead man as Harry L. Fennell of Verona, Pa., and said Fred Foster, operator of a service station, was arrested a short time later. The shooting occurred in a cabin behind the service station.

Allen said Foster entered the cabin and was hit on the head, and that he told officers he "came up shooting."

Fennell was shot twice in the chest and arm.

Mrs. Bessie Jones of Meridian was held as a material witness.

Radioactive Clam

LONDON (AP) — Dr. A. F. Elliott of the British Medical Research Council has advised Bikini islanders to avoid eating a Pacific delicacy, the giant clam, because it may be radioactive. Elliott said the giant clam has an affinity for cobalt 60 and there may be some of it left in its tissues from the 1946 U.S. atomic tests in the Bikini area.

Withholding Interest

By William A. Doyle

... My father owned some Series H, U.S. bonds, on which interest payments were due in January and July. My father died in April. No July interest check was received by my mother, who is the executrix of my father's estate. Nor was there any notification that the interest was being held, pending estate settlement, until I wrote to the U.S. Treasury Department.

By what mechanism does the Treasury Department withhold interest payments, upon the death of the bond owner, without notification? Do they read the Obituaries, or what?

A. The Treasury holds up interest payments on all registered bonds (including H bonds) when the department learns of the death of the owner of the bonds. There are many ways the department gets this information.

Very often one of the heirs or someone connected with the estate will notify the Treasury.

But the most frequent way is when the interest checks are returned as "undeliverable." There's an angle here most people overlook.

Government bond interest checks, like all other U.S. Treasury checks, are deliverable only to the addressee. This marked on the envelopes in which they are mailed.

If the postmaster or the mailman knew that your father was dead, he probably did not deliver that interest check. That check was returned to the Treasury Department. That's the law. And it applies, even if your mother continued to live at the same address.

When interest checks on government bonds are returned to the Treasury, they are held until the estate is settled and the bonds are either redeemed or issued to the heirs.

At that point, of course, all back interest will be paid.

Q. After the close of the stock market, one recent afternoon, I called my broker and told him to sell 200 shares of a stock I owned the next day, "at market" on the New York Stock Exchange. On the day I called this particular stock had closed at $49.25 a share.

The broker sold the next day—100 shares at $45.75 a share and 100 shares at $45.50 a share. I had expected that it might drop a bit. But I didn't expect to take a beating of almost $4 a share.

Isn't the broker supposed to look after his client's interest? Shouldn't he have called me and told me of the big price drop before going through with the transaction?

A. Yes, the broker is supposed to look after his client's interests. And we have to assume that he did just that. He sold the stock for you "at market"—the best price he could possibly get. That's what "at market" means.

The broker was under no obligation to call you and tell you that the stock's price had taken a sudden plunge.

Q. A company in which I owned stock went bankrupt in 1937. The stock became worthless in that year. Can I declare that $7,140 I invested in that stock as a "capital loss" when I file my 1961 Federal tax return?

A. No. Unfortunately you waited 17 years too long. Tax losses on stock which becomes worthless can only be taken within seven years after the stock becomes worthless.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Deadline Nears For Wheat, Barley Signup In Monroe

ABOUT two weeks remain in which growers may file applications to take part in the 1962 winter wheat stabilization and the 1962 feed grain program for winter barley, Donald Reish, Chairman of the Monroe County Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers yesterday.

The deadline is Dec. 1, 1961, the Chairman declared, which means that producers may sign up in either program at any time through December 1.

Farmers who take part in the program will be eligible to receive special payments for diverting a part of their acreage from the production of wheat or barley, or both, and devoting that acreage to an approved conservation use, and they will also qualify for price support on their 1962 crop.

The 1962 wheat support is at a minimum national acreage of $2 a boushel. While the 1962 barley price support has not yet been announced, it will be at a level not less than for 1961. The national average support price for 1961-crop barley was 93 cents per bushel.

Further details concerning these programs may be obtained by contacting your county Agricultural and Stabilization and Conservation Service office. Since there will be no extension in the Dec. , 1961 deadline, interested farmers must sign up before that date.

Columbus Group Formed

THE newly formed Columbus Home Association of The Stroudsburgs held its regular meeting at St. Luke's Church on Monday with a large number of members in attendance.

By-laws for the association were read and ratified.

Among the important issues discussed was the Open House which will be held Sunday, Nov. 26 at the new homesite (Brookside Farms), Stroudsburg.

All Knights of Columbus members and their families are invited to attend. Prospective members of the K of C are also welcome.

The Open House will be from 2 to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Area Insurance Agents Honored

TWO AREA insurance agents have been honored by the Insurance Co. of North America in an eight-week long sales production program.

They are Walter R. McClelland of the Crowe Insurance Agency, East Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Mildred W. Jago of Bangor. The awards were presented by E. A. Town, manager of the firm's Harrisburg office.

Tobyhanna Lions' Drive

THE Tobyhanna Lions Club, which has designated November as "Eyesight Month" is continuing its drive for old frames and lenses. The club is also seeking donors to the eye bank.

Anyone wishing to contribute to either campaign above, may contact any of the members listed below:

Lloyd Ross, James Oakey, Preston Brown and Andrew Ingerill, all of Tobyhanna; Arthur Finey, Newfoundland; Pat Grecco, Gouldsboro, and Neil F. Polumbo and Allen Pope of Tobyhanna.

Post-Turkey Trot At E-Burg

THE BUSINESS staff of the East Stroudsburg Yearbook are sponsoring a dance tonight in the high school cafeteria.

The dance, named "The Post-Turkey Trot" will begin at 8 o'clock and continue until 11:30.

Senior high school students and graduates are invited to attend.

Dance music will be provided by the "Tommy Dorsey" of the high school—Robert Posten and his orchestra.

Army Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—A contract totaling $6,301,596 was received from the Army Ordnance Corps, the Siegler Corp. reported. It calls for production of projectiles for use in heavy tanks and for artillery, John G. Brooks, president said. He added that work will be done by the company's Jack & Heintz Division, Cleveland.

Woman, 84, Named 'Troop Grandmother'

NEWFOUNDLAND—A woman who has spent 80 of her 84 years in the South Sterling area has been chosen "Troop Grandmother" by the Brownies of Troop Two.

She is Mrs. Ida Megargle, who observed her 84th birthday anniversary on Nov. 13.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Josephine Woltjen, Peggy Tobey, Linda Gilpin, Carol Butler and Patty Woltjen, representing the troop, presented Mrs. Megargle with a complete Thanksgiving dinner.

Mrs. Megargle, was born on November 13, 1877, in Berlin Township, near Honesdale. She is the daughter of the late Bruce and Elizabeth Adams.

The family moved to South Sterling in 1881, and Ida Megargle grew up in the Pocono Mountain community, raising twin sons, Bruce, whose home is next door to hers, and Burton, of Scranton. She has three grandchildren.

A member of the South Sterling Methodist Church, she is also associated with its Woman's Society of Christian Service and Adult Bible Class.

It has been a week of celebration for Mrs. Megargle. On November 12, she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Megargle and their son Sheldon, in Scranton, for a turkey dinner. On Monday, she and Mrs. Ida Brundage, whose birthday was also on that day were entertained at a chicken dinner and party by Mrs. Rebecca Seese, of Canadensis. Other guests were Miss Margaret Carlton, La-Anna; Mrs. Charles D. Smith, South Sterling; Mrs. Loretta Nauman, Mt. Pocono.

Then on November 19, Mrs. Megargle was hostess to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan and son, Roy, of Honesdale; Mrs. Flossie Barrenger, of Painted Post; Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter, Mr. Baxter's brother, and Mrs. Grace Werner, all of Doylestown.

At a traffic intersection, the U.S. Mail Truck has the right of way over all other vehicles, at all times.

Technically inter-borough games may leave much to be desired by the sports fan who likes his sports of professional calibre; but socially, nothing could be more successful — no matter who wins or how well or poorly the respective teams played.

Let the sports editor evaluate strategy and skill and umpiring; all a social editor has to do is look. There are college freshmen showing off their new hair-dos, sophistication, and/or boy and girl friends; there are brides and bridegrooms showing off their new acquisitions.

There are fond papas and mamas with offspring so new that they have to be held, or so grown-up that they can't keep track of them. And no matter how old you are yourself, there is always someone from the same era, just as partisan in their cheering, with a fund of mutual memories that knit them closer to you than brother or sister.

The ideal age to be is when you still care about who wins but losing doesn't make you lose your appetite for Thanksgiving dinner; when, despite your partisanship, you can still rejoice in good plays by the children of your friends across The Creek;

When you still know the families, if not the individual players or cheer leaders or bandsmen, and can marvel at how big or how pretty they have grown. All this, of course, depending on the fact that the weather is not too wet for your rheumatism or too cold for tired blood, and that you've got somebody to watch that turkey you're working up such an appetite for.

And from that aspect, yesterday's Turkey Day classics were perfect, whether or not you are recalling the final score with pleasure. Besides as more than one spectator was saying, and I quote "There's always next year."

Auxiliary Seeks Names Of Those Now In Service

Newfoundland — The auxiliary of Phillips-Zacharias-Phillips Post 859, American Legion, is seeking names and addresses of servicemen and servicewomen from the area so that the unit project of remembering them at the holidays may be carried out.

Anyone knowing the name and address of a local service person should contact Mrs. Alice Lee, of Greentown, as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Robert Rochfort, president.

During the November meeting at the legion home, it was announced that the unit has 54 of the 78 quota members to date.

A joint meeting with the legion post has been scheduled for December 5, at which time members should bring comfort articles to be distributed at the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Hospital for Christmas.

A contribution to the Salvation Army was approved.

The Wyckoff Shopper
"the friendly store"
A.B. Wyckoff
STROUDSBURG, PA.

There's just no pleasing people! Bobby Westbrook thanks me for my remarks about her in my column, and Florence Predmore (our book buyer) wants to know why I didn't mention Emily Kimbrough's new book, "Pleasure by the Busload," Harper, 3.95! I guess I didn't mention it because I didn't know about it—but I certainly will recommend it sight unseen, for Emily Kimbrough is a very funny lady. In my opinion, her much earlier book, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," was one of the most hilarious I've ever read—far funnier than the movie, and funnier, for some strange reason, with each re-reading.

Other new books to be considered for Christmas giving are "My Favorite Christmas Story" by Roy Rogers, 1.50; "Beyond Our Selves," by Catherine Marshall (4.95) whose earlier books "A Man Called Peter" and "To Live Again" were so phenomenally popular; "The Real Christmas", Pat Boone, and Art Linkletter's "Kids STILL Say the Darndest Things", 2.95.

* * *

After scolding me about Emily, my friend Florence mellowed and gave me a personally conducted tour of one of the most interesting displays in our store—a collection of some of the least expensive but most imaginative desk accessories we've ever stocked, priced from 1.00. Florence feels that gifts at Christmas should be of a personal nature, and most of these come complete with two or even three initials. Others may easily be personalized by our store engraver.

Some of the items I noted were: pads with magnetic pens—some without covers, some with vinyl covers, and one with a laminated cover that encases a real butterfly and grasses. These range in price from 1.00 to 2.98 . . . Telephone desk pads at 1.95; others with place for addresses, 2.95 . . . A neatly boxed set, containing pen, pen base and formica pad in woodlike design, 3.95 . . . and, at varied prices, brass billboards to hang upon the wall, complete with magnets to hold the notes you will write on paper torn from the pad (with pencil) attached at one side . . . all manner of pencils, ball points, desk boxes, stamp boxes, etc., ready for personalizing. It's a display well worth studying if you desire an inexpensive Pal Gift; a slightly off-beat selection, or a little something to tuck into the toe of a stocking.

* * *

Margaret Rickert summoned me into our lingerie department to see the 100% cotton knit pajamas and matching coats being offered by Seamprufe to inject an added bit of glamour into the life of any girl or woman. The coat ends short of the knees, and is a pretty thing, warm and cozy. The pajama tops are in a broken plaid to match the coat, while the bottoms are solid color. Pajamas are designed with a scoop neckline and ¾ sleeves. There are two color combinations: one combines orange and brown tones; the other, greens and yellow. The coats are 8.95 in S, M, and L; the pajamas, 6.00 in sizes 32 to 38.

Another chic pajama of the same knit by the same company is styled similarly, except that a mass of colorful stripes extends from the right side of the scoop neckline to the bottom of the pajama top, and a similar band, used horizontally, trims the lower left sleeve. The rest is all solid color, and my personal choice is a combination of blues and greens on black. There is no topcoat to these, and the price is 6.00.

Why don't you "tend to your knitting" and give someone on your gift list a set of these for Christmas? They're sharp as a knitting needle, and if you think I'm spinning a yarn, see them for yourself.

Pleasant Valley Upsets Pocono 20-8 In Bucket Game

BRODHEADSVILLLE — Pleasant Valley High School helped establish a Thanksgiving football tradition for Monroe County's two newest high schools, by whipping Pocono Mountain 20-8 Thursday morning.

Pocono—Safety, Pleasant Valley recovered ball in own end zone.

Pocono—Coffman (3 yd. plunge(. Run failed.

PV—Mosier (25 yd. run). Run failed.

PV—Everett (7 yd. run), Herfurth run.

It was the first win of the year for the Bears, who like Pocono, are taking part in their first season of football. The Bears did have one tie this year.

Pocono's Cardinals had a 3-1 record going into the final game and based on comparitive scores, the North Monroe County team was a heavy favorite. But as many schools have learned, records, favorites and statistics mean little on turkey day.

Some 1,500 people watched the two clubs battle for the Old Oaken Bucket, which Pleasant Valley will receive later in the year at an assembly from donor Marty Baldwin.

Dominate Play

For most of the first half, Pocono, which had given up only 12 points in previous games, dominated play. In the first period, Pleasant Valley did not have a scrimmage play and had the ball for only two minutes of the first half.

Since it was a junior varsity game, 10 minute quarters were played. Varsity competition requires 12 minute periods. In two years, both schools will field varsity squads.

Pleasant Valley, under coach Wayne Hulsizer, not only won the game but completely dominated statistics.

The Bears gained 145 yards on the ground, while Pocono was held to 35 rushing yards.

Neither team had much success. The Bears completed two of five tosses for 18 yards.

Card coach Al Shollenberger spent much of his practice time the past two weeks working on a passing game. But the Cards managed only one completion in eight tries. It was good for 10 yards.

Pleasant Valley picked up 13 first downs, while Pocono had eight.

Lone Touch

The only time Pleasant Valley touched the football in the first period, it scored. It was a defensive team touchdown.

On the third play of the game, the Cards' Allen Young attempted a halfback pass. The ball was deflected by Pleasant Valley's Hank Mosier and bounced into the arms of teammate Rickie Everett at midfield. Guard Roger Borger tossed a key block for Everett, who moved down the sideline for the six-pointer, with less than two minutes gone in the game. Lew Herfurth went up the middle for the extra points. Pleasant Valley led 7-0.

Pocono controlled the ball for the rest of the period and at the start of the second quarter was driving for a score. But on the Pleasand Valley three yard line, fullback Bill Coffman fumbled and Barry Shupp fell on the ball. As Shupp fell, the ball popped loose and rolled into the Bear end zone, where PV's Mosier recovered for an apparent touchback.

However, officials ruled that Shupp had possession of the ball on the first bobble and he muffed the ball into the end zone, and ruled a safety.

Hulsizer argued that if Shupp had possession on the ground, the ball should have been dead and the muff would not have been allowed. But the safety stood.

Long March

Pleasant Valley kicked off and the Cards marched some 70 yards, with Coffman going over from the three. The run for the extra-point failed and it was 8-7, Pocono.

Pleasant Valley drove from its own 30 to the Card 30 after the kick-off but the half ended, killing the threat.

If the first half belonged to Pocono, Pleasant Valley owned the second half.

Pleasant Valley took the second half kick-off after a short run back, and went 75 yards for the go ahead score. Herfurth, Mosier and Everett alternated the ground work and from the Bear 26, Mosier, the fastest player on his team, went the route. Herfurth was stopped short on the PAT run.

For most of the remaining time, it was a defensive battle, with teams exchanging punts.

In the fourth quarter, Pocono was forced to punt from its 30. A bad snap from center delayed the kick and before the punter could get the ball way, he was tackled by Mosier, Everett and Barry Shupp on the 10.

Everett Scores

Two running plays up the middle took the ball to the seven and on third down Everett went over. Herfurth followed with th extra point run to end the scoring.

Late in the game, Pocono got to the Bear 20 but Mosier, who led his club in ground gaining with 60 yards intercepted and the Bears ran out the clock.

Hulsizer felt the big difference in his team's performance in the second half was the defensive charge.

"Our line was going in to deep," said Hulsizer. "The boys were running by ball carriers. In the second half we adjusted their charge and it helped a great deal.'

Orange Want Rice, Kansas As Opponent

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—If given its choice, the Liberty Bowl-bound Syracuse University football team would like to meet Rice or Kansas, reports coach Ben Schwartzwalder.

But before the Dec. 16 bowl game in the Philadelphia stadium, Syracuse still has Boston college to play Saturday. And right now that's the main concern, Schwartzwalter said Thursday. Syracuse is favored to defeat BC and close out with a 7-3 record.

The Orange accepted a host team bid to the Liberty Bowl Wednesday but still to be chosen is the visiting team.

Other Teams

Promoter Bud Dudley said Rice and Kansas along with several other schools are being considered. The others he listed are Duke, TCU, Louisiana State, Miami (Fla..), Colorado, Utah State, Missouri and the winner of the Army-Navy game.

Actually, said Schwartzwalder, his team would like another crack at Notre Dame which defeated the Orange 17-15 on a controversial field goal after regulation time had run out.

But Notre Dame appears out of the picture, Schwartzwalder admitted, since the school has a policy of no post-season bowls.

Texas' Win Earns Club Cotton Spot

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) —Eldon Moritz' golden toe and the flying feet of a fearsome quintet of Jack Collins, Jim Saxton, Mike Cotten, Jerry Cook and Tommy Ford crushed Texas A&M 25-0 Thursday and sent Texas into the Cotton Bowl.

Moritz booted field goals of 31 and 39 yards in the first half to soften up the stubborn Aggies. Collins took a 46-yard scoring pass from Sacton, Cook rammed over for a touchdown from the one after running an intercepted pass back 41 yards and Ford led a 66-yard drive that wound up with him climbing over from a yard out for a 19-point second half.

Final Game

Texas was ending up with a 9-1 record for the season and getting the Cotton Bowl host spot by virtue of clinching a tie for the Southwest Conference championship.

Texas A&M's inept offense got inside Texas territory only three times during the game and the Aggies never had a chance after a strong defensive first half.

A crowd of 42,000 watched the Longhorns dominate the game virtually all the way, four times rolling into Aggie land in the first half but having to settle for Moritz' field goals.

DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as news copy deadlines, are necessary . . . in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production . . . and without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper . . . permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including classified display, must be in the advertising office prior to the hours specified below:—

Monday Copy.....12 Noon Friday
Tuesday Copy.....11 A.M. Saturday
Wednesday Copy.....4 P.M. Monday
Thursday Copy.....4 P.M. Tuesday
Friday Copy.....4 P.M. Wednesday
Saturday Copy.....4 P.M. Thursday

When Proof Is Required
Prior To Publication of the Ad
The Deadline Is Noon
(Instead of 4 P.M.) on the days indicated above

Newspaper Advertising Scores More Sales than Other Media

The nation's local advertisers invested $2.7 billion in newspapers last year. That's six times as much as they spent in radio, nine times as much as in TV, three times as much in newspapers as in all other major media combined!

Herman C. Nolen, president of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., puts it this way: "We at McKesson feel that if you place an advertisement in a newspaper the result is--something happens. You get action."

If you want action, if you want results – use the daily newspaper.

On defense, Stulgaitis used a novel 5-3-3 defense or a small diamond arrangement of linebackers. The Mounties had a standard five-man line with two line-backers on either side of the center and a third linebacker, Jack Imbt, in back of the center. Imbt was free to move up and down the line in the arrangement.

The only time the Mountie defense was able to contain the Cavaliers in the first period was shortly after the game opened.

East Stroudsburg got possession of the ball on the second play of the game, when Baylor fumbled and tackle Allen Schell recovered on the Mountie 29.

It looked as if it would be an easy road to the end zone for the Cavaliers, as Myers clipped off 10 yards on the first play. But then things got tough. Myers and Farris managed only two yards and Van Vliet dropped a pass in the end zone. On fourth down, Myers broke loose around left end but Austin Keiser reacted quickly to the play and brought the Cavalier back down short of the first down.

Stroud Union could gain only seven yards on three plays after taking over and had to punt.

The Cavaliers took over on the Mountie 45 and began their parade of six touchdowns.

In eight running plays, five by Myers and three by Farris, the Cavaliers had a TD. With 3:31 left in the first quarter, Myers went over from the one. Myers tried to run for the extra point but was stopped by Loney and Barry Weiss.

A short kick-off, that Keiser downed on his own 44, started the Mounties' lone first drive. The threat ended 11 plays later, when Kirk Neison almost intercepted a fourth-down Loney pass but only knocked the ball down.

A pass interception by Loney halted the Cavielr bid for a second score but Neison recovered a Baylor fumble on the first Mountie play and the Cavaliers set up shop on the SU 42.

Myers Fake

In 12 plays the Cavs had the score. It came on a ten-yard counter play. Myers had been doing most of the leg work in the drive and on the TD play, Van Horn faked to Myers going to right and handed the ball to Farris, who slipped off left tackle untouched for the score.

Sophomore Mike Ajygin, who booted three perfect placements in the Cavalier's 21-19 win over Nazareth two weeks ago, added the conversion.

The half ended that way but four minutes after the mixed band performance, the Cavaliers had another TD. East Stroudsburg used eight plays to move the kick-off from its 31 to the Mountie 30.

On first down, Myers ripped off tackle, veered quickly to the sideline and out ran the Mountie secondary to the end zone.

It was probably the fastest and hardest Myers ran in the game and when he slipped after crossing the goal line he skidded out of the end zone into the four-deep crowd that surrounded the field. Freddy Frantz blocked Ajygin's conversion kick.

In less than two minutes, the Cavaliers had another score. Steele made a brilliant interception of Loney's first down pass giving ES the ball on the SU 46.

Van Horn got nine yards on a roll out and Farris banged right tackle and the Mounties banged right back, closing the hole quickly. So Farris slid off the pile and went around end for 37 yards, six points and a 25-0 Cavalier lead. Ajygin kicked the PAT but the Cavaliers were penalized for holding and Van Horn failed in his try to run for the extra point.

Still Trying

The Mounties still trying to find an offensive pattern that would click, got their first touchdown on a defensive break. Ed Nevil punted from his 47 and Van Horn moved under the ball at about the Cavalier 30. Just as Van Horn caught the ball, he was hit and the ball popped off his chest, bounced on the ground once and was picked up by Schatzman. Schatzman ran to the end zone for what appeared to be a touchdown.

But the officials ruled that it was not a score and gave Stroud Union the ball on the 17.

High school rules prohibit a defensive player from advancing a punt fumble but give the ball to the recovering team at the spot where possession was gained.

A pass to Schatzman gave Stroud Union a first down on the two. Schatzman banged for one and Baylor went over with 2:38 left in the third period for the score. Hank Harris and Schell blocked Nevil's PAT kick.

In only thirty seconds the Cavaliers had the six points back and tacked on an extra point.

Nevil's kick-off was taken by Steele on the 10. The junior halfback faked a reverse to Myers and headed towards the school building side of the field. He got a good block at the 45 to open the path and he footdueled four Mounties to the goal. Ajygin converted.

The fourth period was only six plays old, when Van Horn hit Palmer with a 17-yard touchdown strike. An 18-yard pass to Farris two plays earlier had set up the TD. Frantz blocked Ajygin's kick and it was 38-6 with 9:19 left.

Reserves Play

Kist sent his reserves in on defense when Stroud Union got the ball and the Mounties quickly moved from their 35 to the Cavalier 32. When they reached that point, Kist put his first unit back in the game.

A pass interference call gave Stroud Union a first down on the 16 and after two straight incompletions, Loney passed to Frantz on the two. Schatzman banged at the middle twice and went over on his second attempt from the one. Loney booted the conversion.

Myers broke loose for his longest run on the second play after the kick-off. He went 56 yards to the Mountie 15 before he was brought down. When the Mounties caught Myers, he was almost walking, a victim of too much water during time outs. It was the last time he carried.

A Van Horn to Palmer pass, the same type aerial that earned Palmer a TD, took the ball to the one and Harmon went over. Again it was Ajygin that converted.

Kist put his reserves back in and Stroud Union began moving. Loney hit Imbt with 50 yards worth of passes and two ES penalties and several short runs put the ball on the one. Schnatzman bulled over and Loney passed to Imbt for the extra point, after a holding foul set the losers back 15 yards.

With only seconds left, Stroud Union tried an on-sides kick but the Cavaliers recovered and ran out the clock, for their sixth win in the 17 game series.

Green Knights Stop Bangor High 19-6 At Weona Park

By ARMON WILLIAMS
Daily Record
Sports Writer

PEN ARGYL—Pen Argyl's high powered offense sputtered but never quit Thursday, as the Green Knights whipped Bangor 19-6, to win the Lehigh - Northampton League.

It was the first league title since 1947 for the Knights and the latest win came in the first year that coach Elwood Petchel had been at the Slate Belt school.

The victory also gives Pen Argyl the Pocono-Slate Belt championship and the Daily Record Trophy that goes with it. The trophy will be presented to the school later.

East Stroudsburg, which smashed Stroud Union Thursday morning 45-20, finished second in both leagues. Pen Argyl had a 6-0 L-N mark, while East Stroudsburg finished with a 5-1 log, the only loss to Pen Argyl.

Pen Argyl was never able to get its famed offensive in high gear Thursday as the under-dog Bangor eleven stymied the green and white and countered with offensive action of its own. Although the Green Knights rushed for a net of 193 yards, they failed to connect on any one of five forward passes they attempted.

Bangor Yardage

Bangor moved for 69 yards on the ground and another 19 via the air-lanes for just 88 yards, but it was enough to keep the Green and White guessing. Pen Argyl struck for two touchdowns in the second quarter, one on the power offense plan the other on a 45 yard run from scrimmage by Bill Jackson, who broke over tackle cut for the side lines and outran the Bangor defenders. This play, many critics felt was the killer, for it took some of the early pressure off the tied-up Pen Argyl offense.

Following the Pen Argyl point production of 13 in the second quarter, Bangor drove for its own TD after Charles Kneebone, Bangor tackle recovered a Pen Argyl bobble on the Pen Argyl 32. Leo Reimer, Bangor's heaviest ground gainer of the day, finally went in to score for the Slaters from the one.

Pen Argyl scored just once in the second half, and that in the third quarter, when Gary Herd banged over from the one-yard line. That was all of the point production for the afternoon as each team seemed to mount enough defensive sregth to stop any consistent drive on the part of the opposition.

Scoreless First

The first quarter was a scoreless stalemate as both teams had trouble mounting drives. However, late in the first quarter the Green Knights had mustered a drive that started on their own 20, following a Bangor punt into the end zone.

With Gary Heard, and Bob Engler running, they registered a first down on the Pen Argyl 39. On the next play Bob Engler ran to the Bangor 34 and Heard added another first down on the Bangor 23. Engler got loose to the Bangor four and in two plays, Engler banged over for the first blood at the start of the second period. Engler attempted to rush the extra point but was stopped by the Bangor line.

A second Pen Argyl score was recorded shortly after the ensuing kick-off. Bangor took the kickoff and was unable to return from its 16, as Sherty Heard slipped in the muddy terrain. Unable to gain, the Slaters were forced to punt with the ball being downed on the Bangor 45. Here, Bill Jackson, normally an end, but a fast track man took a handoff from Sandt on a reverse and went 45 yards, as the Banger defense was fooled and Jackson got a clear path.

The speedster went the distance with no Bangor defenders able to get close enough to make a bid. Jackson also went the necessary yards by rushing for the extra point and the score stood Pen Argyl 13, Bangor 0.

Following the kickoff, Bangor was unable to move and Leo Reimer, punting for the Slaters, kicked to the Pen Argyl 21. Two plays later an error of commission happened in the Pen Argyl backfield, the ball squirted free and Charlie Kneebone, Bangor tackle recovered for the Slaters on the Pen Argyl 32.

Perfect Strike

Terry Wildrick threw a perfect strike to Reimer on the Pen Argyl 17 for a first down and the Slaters were on the move goalward. Ron. Bet went up the middle for eight more yards, as the Pen Argyl defense seemed bewildered. Reimer kept hammering and carried to the Green and White three yard line for another first down. Bet added two more yards and Reimer carried into the end zone for the Bangor touchdown. Sherty Heard's placement with Monk Parsons holding was wide of its mark and the score at the half was Pen Argyl 13, Bangor 6.

A 15-yard penalty was the difference in Pen Argyl scoring its last touchdown. After taking the second half kickoff to the Bangor 29, the Slaters stopped the Pen Argyl threat and had forced them back to the 35 yard line. On fourth down an attempted forward pass although completed was short of the necessary yardage, but Bangor was penalized to its own 14 yard line for roughing the passer.

Pen Argyl took full advantage of the break and with Heard carrying for five successive plays went in for its third touchdown and for what was to be the only score of the last half. The attempted run for the extra point was jammed by the Bangor forwards.

The balance of the game was a punting exchange with neither team able to mount enough scoring punch to make it stick. On the final play of the game, with Bangor in possession on its own 25 yard line, Wildrick's pass was intercepted by Pen Argyl's Roy Cortez, but his run to touchdown land was nullified when one of his teammates clipped in the ensuing run.

Although some 7,000 fans had been expected at the game officials indicated that the crowd was far below expectations. Some gave estimates of around 4,000, which is considered a small number for this annual fracas.

Tremendous applause was accorded the Bangor High Slater Band under the direction of Allan Miller and to the other Bangor marching units under Earl Rader. Some 130 marchers presented an outstanding half time show of precision marching and excellent music.

Band Show

Pen Argyl's band presented a half time Christmas theme Symphony, with the regular snowman and old Santa Claus making the half time appearance.

The annual floral exchange, this year from Pen Argyl to Bangor cheerleaders was staged at half time.

Bill Holland, versatile senior Bangor tackle who was unable to play in yesterday's contest due to a broken leg, served as honorary captain of the Bangor squad. He joined Leo Reimer and Denny Holland, Bangor captains and Pen Argyl captains, Tom Curcio and Ralph DeLong, for the pre-game coin toss in the middle of the field.

Stulgaitis Thought 3rd TD Put Game Out Of SU Reach

JERRY Stulgaitis, Stroud Union High School coach, felt that East Stroudsburg's third touchdown broke open yesterday's inter-borough game.

"It was only 13-0 at halftime," said Stulgaitis, "and I thought we could do something in the second half. We have had one good half in most of our games this year."

But shortly after the second half opened, Cavalier halfback Harold (Mach 2) Myers went 30 yards for a touchdown and the game was out of reach.

"It's a funny thing about Meyers," said Stulgaitis. "All week I told my players to hit him low. You can't bring him down by riding his back. But all through the game they tried to tackle him around the shoulders. Several times they had him trapped behind the line but he dragged my tacklers forward for three and four yard gains."

No Kidding

"I don't kid myself into thinking that we would have won if we had held them early in the second half," Stulgaitis continued, "but I think it would have been a closer game."

Stulgaitis thought that Jack Imbt, his end and linebacker had played a great game. Imbt caught three passes for almost 60 yards and led the club in tackles.

Imbt was the middle man in a triangle of line-backers that Stulgaitis installed for the game. Two backers played on either side of the center, with Imbt in back of the center.

Stulgaitis briefly explained his "swinging tackle" system that the Mounties used on offense.

The Mounties kept their tacklers in the backfield until East Stroudsburg set its defense. Then both tackles moved to one side of the line, overshifting the front.

"We've been overshifting to the right all year," said Stulgaitis, "and I thought we would try overshifting to both sides."

Cavalier coach Jack Kist didn't feel that any one play broke the game open but he thought the counter plays were the best threat his team had.

"Stroudsburg was keying on Myers," said Kist, "So we used plays that had fakes to Myers, with Brian Farris ending up with the ball."

Kist said he was not surprised to see the tackles waiting in the Stroudsburg backfield before going into the line.

"I thought Jerry would do something to overshift to both sides," said Kist. "I wasn't sure what it would be."

Audible Signal

Kist was somewhat surprised with the triangle arrangement of the linebackers and said that his team used a signal at the line of scrimmage (audible) to solve the problem.

"If we called aply in the huddle that went up the middle," said Kist, "and they had that triangle jamming the middle.

Van Horn (Jack) changed the play at the line and used an off tackle or counter. If they had linebackers in the tackle holes, we switched to a middle play."

Kist was not sure how many plays were changed at the line of scrimmage.

Kist praised his defensive line for the job it did on rushing Mountie quarterback Warren Loney.

"Loney is a good long passer," explained Kist, "and we had to do something to prevent him from throwing long. Our line charge made him throw before his receivers had a chance to get downfield."

Warriors Meet Howard In Soccer Opener

EAST Stroudsburg's outstanding soccer team will round out the four teams to participate in the third annual N.A.I.A. soccer tournament that opens at Lock Haven State College today.

East Stroudsburg was picked to replace the team to represent the New England Region when the two outstanding teams from that area failed to qualify.

This team ranks high as a soccer power and has justly earned the invitation to the tournament. The team's 9-2 record only tells part of the story. Both of the losses came in close, hard fought games, ending with scores of 2-1 in both cases. The Warrior's first defeat was handed to them by West Chester's powerful team. West Chester, with a 10-0 record is considered by many soccer experts to be the outstanding team in the country. Newark College of Engineering placed the other mar on Stroudsburg's record by eeking out its 2-1 decision in double overtime.

Coach Chauncey A. Morehouse, LHSC soccer coach and tournament director, said "Stroudsburg has as well a balanced team as I have seen. They have both a good offense and defense, with no outstanding individuals." It was East Stroudsburg that handed Lock Haven's team its worst defeat of the season by virtue of a 5-1 decision.

Blanked Seven

Stroudsburg's outstanding record this season bares out Coach Morehouse's statements. In it's 11 games they have scored 40 points, while having only had 6 points scored against it. In compiling this figure Stroudusburg blanked 7 of its 11 opponents. It started the season off with five straight shutouts. These came over Montclair State (2-0); Madison branch of Farley Dickerson University (7-0); Millersville State (2-0); Brockport, N.Y. (2-0); and Trenton State (8-0). Then came a 4-1 victory over Newpaul State College, N.Y. and the 5-1 victory over Lock Haven.

The other two shutouts came over Wilkes College and powerful Elizabethtown.

Both were 4-0 decisions. Elizabethtown, was one of last year's N.A.I.A. co-champions. This was its only defeat of the season. Elizabethtown had been in both of the previous N.A.A.I.A. national tournaments. This loss destroyed its hope for a third straight appearance and secured the invitation for East Stroudsburg.

Stroudsburg differs from the other three teams in the tournament in two ways. This is the first year they will have participated in the tournament while it will be the second appearance for the other three teams. Newark and Tabor participated last year and Howard two years ago. Also Stroudsburg has all American players on its squad. All of Howard's players are from foreign countries and half of Tabor's team hail from outside the U.S. borders, too.

Three members of this outstanding team were picked by the LHSC varsity players for their "All Opponents" team. They were Harry Shirk, left half; Lee Fly, center half and outside left, Tom Rider.

John Eiler, coach of this team, is one of the top soccer coaches in the country. In soccer circles he is looked on much in the same way as Lock Haven's Hubert Jack is in wrestling.

East Stroudsburg meets Howard University in the semi-final round of the tournament today at 1 p.m.

Foss, Wismer Threatens To Oust Each Other From Job

NEW YORK (AP)—The feud between Joe Foss, commissioner of the American Football League, and Harry Wismer, owner of the New York Titans, neared the point of decision Thursday as each threatened to oust the other.

Foss flew in from Washington early Thursday morning ostensibly to witness the Thanksgiving game between the Titans and Buffalo Bills at the Polo Grounds. Insiders believed, however, he had come to have a showdown meeting with the Titans' president following Wismer's open defiance of his edict nullifying a premature draft of college players by the club owners.

The draft took place nearly two weeks in advance of the scheduled Dec. 2 date. Foss has maintained the action was taken without his knowledge but Wismer refuted this and declared he would go through with his plans to sign the six players he had selected.

"It boils down to this," said Foss, World War II flying ace and former governor of South Dakota. "Either the commissioner or Wismer runs the league. The owners will have to decide. I have to do something and I don't intend to resign.

"It would be better for New York if they (the Titans) got a new owner. Wismer gets only the worst kind of publicity. He feels any publicity is good publicity. This is a typical example."

Wismer, who had been a staunch foe of the commissioner ever since he was appointed two years ago, at first said he favored a new commissioner, then contradicted himself by saying he was not out to get Foss' job.

"Personally, I want a new commissioner," said Wismer, "and I believe I have enough support. But I don't want to get Foss' job. But no South Dakota politician is going to tell me what to do.

"It's possible we will have a new commissioner but really, I don't want to dump Foss. What I really want him to do is move his office to New York from Dallas. If Foss is willing to come, then I'm willing to let him stay as commissioner."

Kelly Beats Mixed Field In Foot Race

MANCHESTER, Conn. (AP) — Olympian Johnny Kelly won the Manchester 5-mile road race Thursday, beating 137 other male entrants and three unofficial female runners.

The Connecticut AAU and the meet director rejected the applications of the girls because of a rule preventing females from competing against men in the sport. So the girls ran anyway, and beat some of the boys, too. All of the girls went the route while two of the men failed to finish.

Kelly, the marathoner from Groton, Conn., and representing the Boston A.A., won the race for the fifth time. He was clocked in 24:21.4 for the event, which starts and ends in Manchester's lower main street.

Girl Is 128th

Julian Chase, 19-year-old Smith College sophomore who would like to run the marathon, finished in 33:40 which would have given her 128th place.

British-born Chris McKenzie, wife of Olympian Gordon McKenzie of the New York Pioneer Club, actually was faster than Julia. She did not cross the finish line because she thought it would be a violation of the rules. Her time was not taken. Her husband was fourth in 24:54.

The third girl, 18-year-old Dianne LeChausse of Manchester, was timed in 41:12, which would have given her 138th position.

The three girls were not permitted to begin at the official starting line.

Walt Barker, Holy Cross sophomore, who held the lead for more than four miles, was second in 24:30.

Liston In Line For Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson will defend his title late next spring against Sonny Liston if both come through their tests Dec. 4, a spokesman for Championship Sports said Tuesday.

Championship Sports is promoting the doubleheader in which Patterson meets Tom McNeeley of Boston in Toronto and Liston, standout challenger from Philadelphia, faces Albert Westphal of Germany in Philadelphia.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Patterson will meet Liston in the late spring if both come through their fights," said Tom Bolan of Championship Sports.

Grid Coach Dies After Team Loses

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP)—Mount Carmel high school football coach Mike Terry was fatally stricken Thursday shortly after his team defeated Shamokin, 19-13.

Terry, 52, suffered what Shamokin State Hospital physicians termed a massive coronary attack as he stepped aboard a bus to leave the football field. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Mount Carmel's victory gave Terry's team a 7-4 record. His lifetime record in 15 years of coaching at Mount Carmel was 102 wins, 54 losses and nine ties.

A native of Mount Carmel, Terry was graduated from the high school in 1928 and from Villanova University in 1932.

He began his coaching career at nearby Kulpmont in 1933. He led that school to the Eastern Football Conference title in 1945.

In 1947 he returned to Mount Carmel. His Mount Carmel team won the eastern conference title in 1954.

Trio Has Lead In Mobile Golf

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Newcomer Ken Still, club pro Leo Biagetti, and tourney regular Gay Brewer Jr. tied Thursday for the opening round lead in the $15,000 Mobile Open Golf Tournament with 3-under-par 69s.

Gusty winds most of the day and soggy greens from overnight rains held the scoring down generally. Only 12 of the 143 touring pros were able to better par over the 36-36—72, 6,800-yard Mobile municipal course.

Cofavorites Arnold Palmer, returning to the tournament tour after an absence of several months, and Doug Sanders, both had their troubles. Palmer, battling a balky putter, shot a 37-33—70. Sanders, winner of the Cajun Classic at Lafayette, La., last Sunday, came in later with a two-over-par 74.

Green Bay Whips Detroit 17-9 To Tighten 1st Spot

DETROIT (AP)—The Green Bay Packers took a firm command in the National Football League's Western Division race Thursday with a 17-9 victory over the Detroit Lions.

The Packers pushed over their winning touchdown on Jim Taylor's one-yard run on the first play of the final quarter and opened their lead to 2½ games over the second-place Lions.

Pvt. Paul Hornung, on weekend leave from the Army, added a field goal in the final 38 seconds.

A steady rain pelted the 55,662 fans who watched the nationally televised contest at Tiger Stadium. Both teams' offenses bogged down on the muddy turf and ball play in the touchdown drive that handling was treacherous for the players.

Big Play

Hornung came up with the big play in the touchdown drive that enabled the Packers to pull out the victory after they trailed twice.

The NFL's scoring leader snared a 26-yard pass from Bart Starr that advanced the ball to the Detroit four. Taylor scored three plays later.

Otherwise, Hornung appeared rusty after his 11-day layoff from football. He kicked two extra points but missed a field goal attempt from the 36-yard line.

Detroit was forced to settle for three field goals. Jim Martin, given a day in his honor by the fans, booted all three.

Martin's kicks got the Lions off to a 6-0 lead as the Packers sputtered for the first 27 minutes, moving the ball well only once. But Starr, the NFL's leading passer, guided the Packers 80 yards for their first score and a 7-6 halftime lead.

Bluth Loses But Manages To Keep 1st

CHICAGO (AP)—Ray Bluth of St. Louis lost all four of his games with Dick Hoover of St. Louis Thursday but kept his lead in the fifth annual World's Invitational Bowling Tournament.

Bluth started the afternoon by taking all four games in his match with defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis. Bluth totaled 949 pins, including a 299 game in which the ten pin failed to fall after he had 11 strikes.

In his other afternoon match, Bluth shot 869, but lost every game to Hoover who totaled 930 pins. Hoover moved up from seventh place to fourth with 98-08 Peterson points.

The loss left Bluth with 102-34 points (102 points plus 34 pins toward his 103rd point) after the first five of his 16 matches in the finals that end Sunday.

Other Points

A bowler earns one point for each game won plus an additional point for every 50 pins knocked down. A bowler is accorded a bonus ½-point if he knocks down more pins than his opponent although losing most of the games in the match.

Second place was held by George Howard, Detroit, who had 101-30 points.

Howard and Bluth each has won 13 of 20 games, but Bluth has downed more pins, 4,484 to 4,430.

In third place was Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., with 100-39 points.

Soccer Team Peddles Star

LONDON (AP) — The Wolverhampton Wanderers sold the contract of Eddie Clamp, their star wing, to Arsenal of the English Soccer League for $98,000 Friday.

Clamp, 26, has played in all the Wolves' league games this season. Arsenal said Clamp would start Saturday's home game against Nottingham Forest.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States and eight other countries have entered films in Mexico's fourth world review of film festival that opens simultaneously in Acapulco and Mexico City today.

Modern Science Talk Given

NEWFOUNDLAND — Edwin Cardoni, a member of the science faculty of West Scranton High School, spoke on "The Philosophy of the Modern Science Program," during the meeting of the Rotary Club at Green's Restaurant this week.

Introduced by Dr. Frank Uridel, program chairman, Mr. Cardoni demonstrated scientific principles in his talk before Rotarians and their guests, SWJS senior science students with Judith Cramer, Betty Dugan, Diane Smith, Richard Crooks, Arthur Rigby, Robert Strupcewski, Donald Barnes, Robert Hazelton, Donald Kimble, and their instructor, Edward Parsons.

Albert Madden, president of the local club, welcomed the students and Mr. Parsons during the meeting.

The Rotary Club will go on a safari of the Arctic with Klondike Krautter and Yukon Jackson, through the courtesy of Dr. Uridel, next week.

PM Grounds Group To Meet

THE BUILDING and Grounds Committee of the Pocono Mountain Joint Schools will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the new high school.

Robert Ross will present to the committee a landscaping plan.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Quiet day in some respects for artistic and scientific issues. Yet industries generally, building, progressive movements rate attention, a boost. Watch trends, guide self accordingly.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Extra care in financial and business matters stressed. Weigh well good and poor points of pending proposals before acceptance or rejection. Outlaw needless expenditures.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Some days, hours, minutes are very trying, completely contrary to that expected, even to what was worked hard for; which IS life. Your versatility and keenness will pick up right cues.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Moon's auspicious aspect versus several less favorable ones, so consider others may oppose you (some with due right) and feel irritable, and you may find slower progress. SANE PRECAUTIONS.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Better-than-average day for a fresh start, adding new form and gait to an old theme, gaining confidences, discussions toward beneficial conclusions. Study BOTH sides of all issues.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Certain impediments to certain sought successes. Patience, quiet demeanor and FAITH are bulwarks. Correct facts and using information ably are also vital buffers.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—With planet Venus' position today, it will be wise not to temper experimentally with affairs not under your jurisdiction (though you feel you may know the answers). Pull in reins generally. Tact!

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—A hint at large-scale moves, plans, new activities. Be not caught up in the maelstrom of dissension and odds working witlessly against a common good. YOUR discernment needed.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Impregnate this day with your natural straight-forward assets, inborn enterprising manner, sheer and diligence to subjects at hand. Any forward movement is the better for your aid.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Do not wait till last moment to make important arrangements, details. You could be swayed unwisely if not on guard now; check and re-check for flaws, intrigue.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Your powers of persuasion should be strong; your intuition backed by sufficient knowledge can lead to answers, judicious solutions quicker than usual. Time may press for returns, but take care.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—You may be the one to suffer "most" (this depends upon objectives or not judging) in matters not expected to annoy. Bearing the brunt can strengthen your advance, as can silent stability.

YOU BORN TODAY, of the first sector of Sagittarius, the Archer, have also waning characteristics from strong Scorpio. The combination of this Cusp at this time represents achievement in unusual ways, with better than average speed. You can at times think up unique, clever answers for problems on spur of the moment, but this is really a freezing of a sharp picture your mind's eye gets from your fine insight, logic and understanding of conditions. You born without much of the world's goods develop excellent foresight, ambition; many present captains of large enterprises aiding many people are of this Sign. Develop your distinctiveness; control generosity and quickness. Birthdate of: Zachary Taylor, 12th U. S. President; Laurence Sterne, English humorist; (Baruch) Spinoza, Dutch philosopher; noted essayists.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day it is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Failures Are On The Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of commercial and industrial failures declined for the second week in a row, Dun & Bradstreet reported yesterday.

The company's business economics department compiled 308 failures in the week ended Nov. 16, compared with 336 a week earlier and 344 in the week ended Nov. 2.

The failures brought the total so far this year to 15,569, an average of 338 a week.

Rosenberg Is Federal Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide to Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said yesterday he had been advised by the White House that President Kennedy has given Louis Rosenberg of Pittsburgh a recess appointment as federal district judge for western Pennsylvania.

Rosenberg now is Pittsburgh public safety director. The post he will take over was created in the judgeship bill passed by Congress this year.

Lu Longenberger

General Flooring Reorganized

GENERAL Flooring Company, 914 North Ninth St., Stroudsburg, is now under new ownership and management. The Ninth Street Company, a newly formed corporation, is now known as General Flooring, Carpet & Tile, Inc.

Lu Longenberger is still manager and also president of the newly formed corporation which will continue to specialize in floor covering and tile.

Longenberger first came to Stroudsburg six years ago and assumed the position of Manager of General Flooring.

Prior to his employment at General Flooring, Longenberger was employed at Zollinger-Harned & Company, Allentown. Longenberger started at Zollinger's as a carpet installer and later became head estimater of the Carpet and Linoleum Department.

Most of Longenberger's 16 years experience is in carpeting, but in the past six years Longenberger has concentrated on nearly every facet of soft and hard floor coverings, plastic and ceramic tiles, commercial, residential and industrial jobs dealing with floor and wall covering.

Appointed To Sell Meteor

A STROUDSBURG automobile dealership — Ray Price Motors, Inc., 345 Main Street— has been appointed to sell the Mercury Meteor, a completely new-sized car which will be introduced this month.

The Mercury Meteor will be unveiled across the country on Thursday, November 30, at about 2,000 dealerships in the Lincoln - Mercury organization. Its Introduction will climax the auto industry's fall showing of the 1962 models.

The Meteor is regarded by the Lincoln-Mercury Division as a balance between the industry's compacts and big cars. Compared to its companions in the Mercury line, the Meteor is nine inches longer than the Comet and nearly a foot shorter than the Monterey.

J. W. Lancaster, Lincoln-Mercury sales manager for the Philadelphia district, points out that the Meteor challenges the economy of the compact cars yet offers the interior room of regular-size cars and riding qualities of big cars.

Walter Has Recollection Of 'Sam' He Won't Forget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., has one recollection of Sam Rayburn he won't forget.

Rayburn's last public appearance before leaving Washington for his home town of Bonham, Tex., where he died last week, was at a June 26 testimonial dinner for Walter at the Mahoning Valley country club at Lehighton, Pa.

On that occasion Rayburn lauded Walter as a "great American."

"I have known Tad Walter intimately for nearly three decades," Rayburn said, "he has provided great help and great inspiration. He has high character and amazing ability and commands the respect on both sides of the aisle among both Republicans and Democrats."

Walter frequently presided over the house in place of Rayburn when prolonged debate rage over controversial legislation.

In tributes paid to Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, America's ambassador to Spain who died Nov. 13, little was said of his contributions as ambassador to Poland in the days before World War II.

State department veterans, however, recall the wealth of information the prominent Philadelphian picked up on Nazi Germany in those days.

Biddle himself was fond of recalling his relations with the Kennedy family at that time. Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the president, then was ambassador to Great Britain and worked closely with Biddle.

Biddle said his recollections of the Presidoent go back to 939 when the then very young John Kennedy visited him with his brother, the late Joseph, Jr.

"I was deeply impressed by those two boys—their searching questions and their profound grasp of the situation," Biddle once told a newsman.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt, R-Pa., is off on a tour of the Antarctic in his capacity as ranking Republican on the joint committee on atomic energy.

He will visit both McMurdo Sound and Byrd Station to inspect the sites for the first two atomic power plants to be placed in the Antarctic.

Pennsylvania congressmen whose months-long efforts succeeded in convincing the administration and the defense department that coal for our bases in Germany should be bought in America, report they are happy with progress being made.

The Reading railroad, they report, already has begun loading the first shipment of a total 485,000 tons of Pennsylvania anthracite that will be shipped abroad in the next eight months.

Wescott Wins 6-Day Haiti Cruise

JAMES WESCOTT, display manager, Rea and Derick Drug Store, Stroudsburg, was one of five persons selected from the drug store chain to receive a six-day cruise to Haiti.

Other selections are Charles Law, Nanticoke; Mrs. Mary Woodring, Easton; Miss Mary Gallo, Sunbury and Miss Clair Carlin, Edwardsville.

The group will fly to Miami where they will board the ship, S. S. Hanseatic, on Jan. 23, 1962. The six-day voyage will take them to Kingston, Jamaica and Port-au-Prince, Haiti and return.

Tooting Exciting To 3-Year-Old

THE POST-CHRISTMAS thumping, tooting or twanging of a musical toy may not mean much to Mother, but to a 3-year-old it's more exciting than Tschaikovsky.

Marion Egbert, educational consultant for the American Music Conference, believes that properly selected toy musical instruments can provide an exciting way for children to discover rhythm and tone—the basic elements of self-made music.

Musical toys can also exert a strong influence on youngsters' desires to play genuine musical instruments.

Quality toy instruments are usually musically "true" and offer a chance for continued exploration of musical sounds and rhythm. Musical toys are so popular with youngsters that the toy trumpet was the top seller for many years.

Other "pre-band instruments" include bell sets, wood resonator blocks and simple drums. Resonator blocks are exceptionally effective in teaching rhythm to children.

Melody instruments comprise another group of musical toys. Actual tunes can be reproduced on such instruments as the xylophone and the "c-note" melody flute.

Toy pianos and electric organs often are used to introduce children to the keyboard. Toy ukeleles, guitars, banjos and mandolins—all priced under $10 — allow the child to play simple tunes almost immediately, and youngsters have lots of fun with this type of "first experience."

Whatever the child's choice, parents will be giving a gift of music—that usually outlasts the toy instrument by decades.

Depends On Land Your In

WHAT WILL you feast on this Christmas? It depends largely on what part of the world you live in, for countries differ greatly as to traditional menus for Christmastime.

In many countries, including France, Ireland, and the Scandinavia countries, goose takes the place of honor at holiday tables. In Scandinavian homes, the tables are also laden with meats and fish during the Yule season.

Germans add apple stuffing to their Christmas goose, while the Dutch like theirs with highly spiced dressing and plenty of puddings, fruit cakes, honey cakes and dessert breads.

England serves her beloved roast beef during the holiday season and Latin countries choose lamb for their Yuletide feasts. In Portugal, the traditional finner has fish and fowl.

And in America, of course, the turkey reigns supreme as the favorite holiday dish.

Cigars Make Nice Present

IF YOU'RE stuck for a gift for a man, remember a box of cigars is among the easiest of presents to pick up these days as they are available everywhere. The gift-buyer is only minutes away from a gaily-wrapped remembrance, if he takes a quick look at the guy's favorite cigar label or box name.

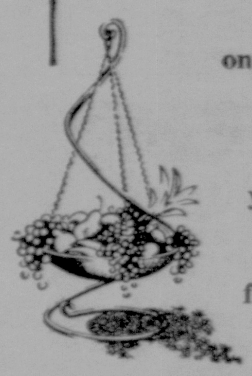

A gift of cigars is good too, for the business man who does not smoke them, but likes to keep a supply on hand for his business associates who do.

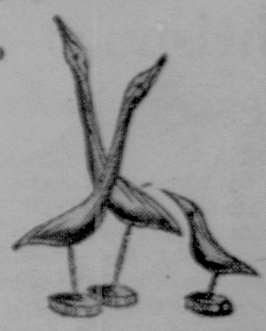

If there is uncertainty about Dad or Grandpop's or Uncle's preference, the gift-buyer can successfully "guesstimate" Dad's pleasure, from among a choice of these popular types: Perfecto — medium in length, shaped at both ends—suitable for the regular all-day smoker. Panetela — straight and slim—for the younger man. Corona—large, long cigar—for relaxing after dinner and TV-watching. Cigarillo-type—pencil-thin, short cigar—for young smokers, or for quick enjoyment by all smokers between larger cigars.

It's Time to think about that special gift for the "Special Someone" on your list . . . . . the one who appreciates the thought you gave to finding an unusually fine gift . . . . . one from

Gift Ideas For Belles And Kids

Gift Bonanza In Gold Rush Of jewelry

This Christmas, thousands of women will thank Santa for fabulous fashion finds in beautiful gold jewelry.

Never before has fine gold jewelry displayed such beauty, fashion importance and wide variety as in this year's showings at fine jewelers, everywhere.

Precious gold has new finishes, shapes and ornamentation. It is braided, linked and shaped in beautiful designs. It is often dusted with precious jewels—a most dazzling array of pins, necklaces, earrings and braceleth.

Whether in 14-or-18 karat, or simply and elegantly gold-filled, the glow of gold jewelryy "goes with everything" and every gift budget.

In combination with pearls or beads, whether necklace, bracelet, pin or earrings, gold jewelry takes on added drama and even broader fashion importance.

Pins set in colorful stones and designed in dimensional shapes are placed to dramatize a fashion point . . . on cape-like lapels, waistlines, far out on the shoulder or . . . in the hair.

Massed bracelets in gold, pearl and colorful combinations fill in for shortened sleeves. Earrings are equally dramatic in long glittering drops, showers of gold and pearl or crystal and stone. Hoop earrings look gay and glamorous in gold and stone-set styles.

Necklaces are unusual combinations of bold beads strung in longer lengths with a dropping tassel, or jeweled collars and fine gold chain collars, worn without any fear of over dressing.

The season is right for exciting new jewelry fashions that give every woman a chance to give in to her enjoyment of color, drama and fun.

Pearls For Girls Precious

PEARLS have always been a very special gift not only for their simple, elegant beauty but because a pearl necklace is always in good taste.

This season the traditional pearl necklaces assume high fashion importance because of their new designs and the important place pearls hold in the current fashion picture.

There are new multi-strand necklaces that feature a beautiful clasp in all the "true jewel" tones of jade, sapphire, emerald, ruby or topaz. The clasps, lovely enough to be pins in themselves, are worn to the side and matched to earrings to provide one of the most pleasing gifts of the season.

Seed pearl necklaces have become increasingly popular strung in multiple strands to twist and drape to the mood of fashion's eased bodices and dropped waistlines.

For the smartest look of all, a single strand of pearls combines with two strands of jade or lapis. The jade or lapis adds a lovely note of contrast to the pearls and provides dramatic color accent to fashions.

Spectacular Christmas Dessert

FOR A spectacular Christmas dessert, try a cranberry chiffon pie. It's easy to make, especially when a graham cracker crust is substituted for its 9-inch baked pie shell.

First, dissolve 1 package lemon-flavored gelatine in ½-cup boiling water, and put aside. In saucepan, combine 1 can unstrained cranberry sauce (whole cranberries), 1 T. lemon juice and ⅛ tsp. salt.

Heat mixture to boiling point, then remove from gas range and add gelatine. Stir until dissolved, then chill until it beings to thicken. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff and gradually add ¼ cup sugar. Do not underbeat. Whip separately ½ cup heavy cream, and fold both egg white merfigue and whipped cream into baked pie shell or graham cracker pastry shell and chill until set.

PEARLS FOR THE GIRLS — especially lovely when enhanced by a bold jeweled clasp worn to one side and matched with smart earrings. Pearls are always an important jewelry fashion note for well-groomed women.

A GIFT OF GOLD means real fashion this Christmas. She'll welcome this soft, fine gold chain necklace with its tassel drop and sprinkling of tiny seed beads. The long drop earrings are high fashion notes too, this season, says the Fashion Co-ordination Institute.

A SHIMMERING SHOWER of crystals, pearls and rhinestones—all are merged together in this dramatic necklace — the perfect gift for any woman.

Two Words Tell Story Of Neckwear

Two words tell the story of neckwear for Christmas choosing—simplicity and neatness.

Those who are shopping for ties to brighten-up a man's wardrobe will discover "simple and neat" does not mean that new cravats are dull, uninteresting or prosaic. The new ties have a really fresh look via the orderly handling of their designs.

New popular panel fabrics have side borders created by either color or pattern—center panels have both bold and controlled motifs, and some ties carry just a hint of pattern working its way into the center section of the tie.

Don't Bat Eyelash Of 'Genius'

DON'T BAT an eyelash if a robot clanks in to wake you on Christmas morning. It's just a little something Junior put together with his Erector set.

Dad may have fond memories of his Erector bridges and elevators but Junior is more likely to spend his time constructing atomic rocket launchers, walking robots and other miniature reproductions of the space age.

Like the Teddy bear, Erector has remained virtually unchanged since it was first introduced nearly fifty years ago. The only changes have been in the addition of more parts, motors and packaging. Almost anything worth mentioning can be built with Erector, and it has been put to some novel, worthwhile uses.

The first working model of the Bailey Bridge of World War II fame was made with an Erector set. Its more humane uses include serving as part of the first successful heart-lung pump, now in the Smithsonian, and in the construction of an agitator used in cancer research at the University of Minnesota.

This "toy" has also exerted an influence in the choice of career for thousands of scientists. M.I.T.'s Claude E. Shannon, a world authority on electronic computers and cybernetics (the theory and application of control mechanisms, including those of the human brain), first became fascinated with science when he was given an Erector set at the age of eight.

The basis for the success of any toy is whether children like it; the sale of more than ten million Erector sets seems to indicate that boys and girls think it's good fun.

Put Sparkle In Her Eyes Via Diamonds

Put a sparkle in her eyes with a gift of diamonds, suggests the Jewelry Industry Council, pointing out that this Christmas such gifts are within reach of almost every budget.

Today, diamonds are used beautifully and imaginatively in jewelry that highlights their ancient beauty, while keeping the cost within reason.

There are pieces of fine diamond jewelry priced well under $100 that would enchant any woman. A single diamond set in a tiny pendant on a fine gold chain is one example. A single sparkling diamond set like a drop of priceless dew on a fine gold leaf is still another.

One of the most practical luxuries any woman can own is a diamond pin. Many of these pins have special attachments that enable them to be worn as pendants on pearls or a chain. They can be worn in the hair for evening and with almost every type of dress or suit.

In the "king's ransom" category there is extraordinarily beautiful diamond jewelry with a whole new look this season, combining diamonds with colorful, precious jewels such as emeralds, rubies or sapphires.

Whether it's a tiny, perfect-cut single diamond or a glittering collection, a diamond gift is sure to lift any woman's heart at Christmas.

Western Churches

WESTERN churches considered December 25th as the Nativity date, although the Eastern churches claimed January 6th as the proper date. Other factions of belief hold that Christ's birth date should be observed as variously as April 20th . . . May 20th . . . March 29th and even September 29th!

Significant Trends

BOTH fantasy and realism are significant trends in the stuffed animal section of Toyland. Youngsters may fondle replicas of their favored pedigreed pooches or felines, or cuddle up to fantastic animals inspired by cartoon characters or sheer imagination on the part of designers.

GIFTS FOR USE AND PLEASURE come in fine leathers for masculine tastes. A jewel case, slim jim necktie case, a fitted travel case and an expandable toiletry kit—are but a few of the many diversified gifts available in handsome leather.

Make Most Prized Gift For Man's Winter Attire

MAKE THE most prized and practical gift for a man's casual winter wardrobe—a warm, masculine jacket of fine leather. In deep shearling lined suede or rugged cowhide, a leather jacket at Christmas will keep him warm and comfortable through the seasons ahead.

Since a Christmas gift should be interesting and attractive as well as practical, look for some of these new styles in leather wear:

CHILDREN'S LOUNGEWEAR goes high fashion with the new, flared tent silhouette, played up in bold blazer stripings on embossed flannelette.

Waist-length jackets of all-leather or leather with bulky knit trim have elasticized waist bands; or are boxy with non-elastic bands in dressier styles. Large shearling or wool knit collars that can be worn up to protect the neck and ears are popular on both smooth leather and suede models. Colors range from black leather with black, gray and white trim to loden green, cocoa, tan, cream, silver gray and even pure white.

All-leather suburban coats cover the hips, and some are nearly knee-length. Warmer than ordinary overcoats, these quilted or pile-lined leather coats are snow-and sleet-proof They're roomy enough to wear over a suit but the right length for driving. Both boxy and belted styles are popular; diagonal flapped side pockets, double breast pockets and double breasted closings are among the new style features.

For Father, the daddy of all apparel gifts is a full-length trench coat in black or ivory leather. It's a continental idea adapted to American tastes. Most leather trench coats show belt and buckle; more sophisticated but equally masculine styles have a self-leather belt without a buckle that ties in a loose knot in front.

MAKE OWN CARDS

IF YOU'D like your Christmas cards to have a more personal touch this year, why not try making your own! It's easy and lots of fun, besides.

One material that has proved very popular for personally-made cards is rough-textured ceiling wallpaper. Block prints or bright yarn embroidery will make beautiful designs. Or paste a holiday snapshot of your family or family pet to your card, for a truly personal greeting.

NECKTIES REFLECT HIS PERSONALITY, AS WELL AS TASTE. When selecting a necktie for that gentleman on your list, keep in mind the fact that neckties are his most important accessories, and should be selected with an eye to his personality, as well as his wardrobe. Small under-the-knot designs and soft overall patterns are favorites this season.

Children And Yule Go Together

THERE'LL BE A STAR-STUDDED CAST ready and waiting on Christmas morning for your home movie story. The cast, the set and location are always in focus—from a few feet to infinity—with this simple aim-and-shoot movie camera. In full color or black and white . . . with its cast of stars, you'll screen a real hit for many years to come.

Safety First For The Holidays

IF YOU'RE one of the many millions who will be traveling the highways for the traditional Christmas visit back home, remember that increased holiday traffic and winter driving conditions hold no respect for the Yuletide spirit.

To enjoy that holiday visit and to return home safely—drive carefully and make certain your car is in good operating condition.

Sam Hanks, former winner of the Indianapolis "500", who is now Director of Racing for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and a consultant to the Raybestos Brake Lining firm, offers the following safety tips for holiday driving:

- Before starting the trip, make sure brakes, tires, lights, steering, windshield wiper and horn are functioning properly. These items must be checked regularly, not only at inspection time.
- Don't undertake any winter trips without snow tires on the rear wheels or tire chains in he trunk. If you've never fitted chains to your wheels, practice doing this ahead of time.
- When driving up a hill covered with ice, hard-packed snow or wet from rain, gain speed and use a high gear. Try to gain maximum momentum on the good portion of the road —and if wheel spin starts, ease back on the throttle.
- Braking distances may be increased tenfold on snowbound or icy roads. Use the brakes gently. If the wheels lock, let the brakes off immediately.

To help prevent skidding, try giving the brake pedal several light dabs. And, on any steep descent, start off slowly—no more than walking pace.

- And, finally—if you're filled with Christmas spirits, don't let them be the liquid kind. A driver and a drink are a deadly combination—at any time.

GIFTS FOR YOUR SPECIAL GUY in jewelry and accessories. For example, he'll go for a fine gold combination pen and pencil; a good lighter is always welcome as is a combination key chain and knife; an attractive gold-filled mesh watch band if his watch is good; or give him a new automatic-wind watch. Other ideas are two-toned gold tie bar and cuff links set, travel alarm, a fine ring or a religious medal with pin back.

Living Green Tree Rated True Symbol Of Christmas

THIS YEAR, approximately 43 million "live" green trees will go into American homes to be gaily bedecked with ornaments, lights and glitter for the holiday season. Today, as in years past, Christmas isn't Christmas without a fragrant, lovely tree.

Now Christmas tree growers are combining efforts under the American Tree Council to further the use of the traditional green, live tree. Not a preservation society, this organization seeks to further the spirit of Christmas through wider use of nature's own and inimitable live green tree.

Through impressive accomplishments in American industries, countless substitutes and shortcuts for modern living have come into their own. But as W. W. Dambach, Chairman of the American Christmas Tree Council points out, "There is NO "instant" Christmas, simply because there is no substitute for the real thing . . . the live green Christmas Tree stands at the heart of our Christmas celebration—in the home, in the church and in the community."

The live green Christmas Tree stands in history as a religious symbol; its fragrance and beauty are the essence of the true meaning of Christ-

Evergreens Beloved Symbols

"O EVERGREEN, O Evergreen, how faithful are thy branches." The gaily-decorated evergreen tree has become such a beloved symbol of the Yuletide season in the United States especially and throughout many other parts of the world, that it is even celebrated in song.

The custom of setting up a tree in the home during the holiday season began in Germany. Originally the trees were used in medieval mystery plays, to represent the Paradise tree or "Tree of Life."

When these plays became prohibited in the churches, the symbolic Paradise tree was taken into the home. At first the trees were decorated with white wafers. These gave way to cookies cut in the shape of stars, angels, hearts, flowers and bells. Eventually they were festooned with paper roses, apples, gilded nuts and candies.

The custom was brought from Germany to France by the Princess Helen of Mecklenburg when she married the Duke of Orleans. Another royal marriage was responsible for England's introduction to the Christmas tree. Prince Albert of Germany, consort of Queen Victoria, decorated trees for his children at Christmastime, and the custom was quickly adopted by the English.

Americans became acquainted with the Christmas tree when Germans emigrated to this continent in 1830. The immigrants followed their beloved tradition of setting up the Paradise tree each Christmas, and soon their neighbors picked up the charming custom.

It has spread until there is scarcely a home, place of business or public spot that does not proudly and gloriously show off a brightly-ornamented tree at Christmastime.

Birds Given

In Sweden and Norway both, birds are given special remembrance. A choice sheaf of grain is placed on a pole or on fence posts . . . bits of suet are hung on the trees—for a gala Christmas treat for the birds.

Don't Let Fire Mar Your Yule Holiday Festivities

EVERY YEAR, the holiday season is marred for many families because of fires caused by Christmas trees. Don't let this happen to you!

Follow these rules for a fire-proof, merry Christmas!

Be sure the tree you purchase is fresh! Determine this by bouncing the butt of the tree against the ground —if the needles stay on, and if the stump cut is sticking with resin, it is fresh. It's also best to select a small tree.

Before setting up your tree, saw off at least an inch of trunk diagonally, placing its base in a water-containing holder. At all times, keep the water-level well above the diagonal cut.

Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights, or other sources of heat and electrical power.

When decorating your tree, use only decorations of the non-combustible type. Be extremely careful with electric lights, checking them for defective wires and loose sockets. Use only electric lights that bear the Underwriter's Laboratories label.

Never use candles for decorations! Since too many light circuits in one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse, distribute the load among several outlets.

Be sure to turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room for any length of time and upon retiring.

THE COMMUNITY Christmas tree idea was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1912. The community raised funds to defray the cost of the tree and celebrationns through the sale of preferred stock in "Cleveland, the city of good will (unlimited), incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth of good cheer." This was specified by holly-bordered certificates.

Holders of preferred stock were entitled to "dividends payable daily in the form of happy voices of robust children, the contented faces of friendly fellow citizens and the advancement of the city of good will."

Sale of stock was pushed everywhere, the most unique place being the Cleveland stock exchange where the stock was listed at the head of other securities. The sale brought in $12,000, which purchased Christmas cheer for 13,000 citizens, as well as the first community Christmas for

Romance In Myths, Legends

THERE ARE many charming traditions about love and lovers connected with the Christmas holidays.

In northern England, young maidens place holly under their pillows with the verse, "Good St. Thomas, serve me right, and send me my true love tonight."

In the Swiss Alps, when a young woman accepts a gift of edelweiss, it is traditionally understood that also accepts the young gentleman who offers it.

And of course the custom of kissing under the mistletoe, as an expression of everlasting love, is one which dates back centuries. Although still a part of our Christmas tradition, it is now more of a "fun" custom rather than a sentimental one.

Santa Claus

SANTA CLAUS has become such an important part of our merry-making at Christmastime, that one can hardly imagine the holiday season without that jolly old fellow, his sleigh and reindeer.

Yet a little over a century ago, Santa Claus as we know him today, did not exist! To be sure, children all over the country eagerly awaited visits from St. Nicholas at Christmastime . . . but they had no idea as to what he looked like. It remained for a university professor to establish Santa's identity as we now know it.

On Christmas Eve, in 1822, Dr. Clement Clarke Moore, a professor at Columbia University, wrote a poem for his children. It was called "A Visit from St. Nicholas" and began,

Greet Advent With Decor Of Tradition

THE SEASON of Advent, which directly precedes Christmas and serves for many Christians as a time of preparation for the coming of the Christ Child, this year begins on December 3rd. In many Christian homes it is often marked by lovely old customs.

The Advent wreath is one such tradition that is observed while awaiting Christmas. Although it is believed to have originated with the pagan fire wheel, it eventually came to represent the thousands of years the earth awaited the coming of Christ. It bears four candles, each of which is lighted on the four Sundays before Christmas.

Any kind of Christmas wreath may be used to make the Advent wreath and there are many ways to display it. It may be set on a kitchen or dining room table, or suspended by four purple ribbons from a light fixture in the ceiling.

Another delightful Advent custom is the "stir-up" or traditional English plum pudding, which is brought to the dinner table for family and guests to stir. Each guest makes a wish as he stirs. The pudding is then steamed and put away until Christmas arrives. Warmed brandy or rum is added and set ablaze.

" 'Twas the night before Christmas"

Dr. Moore wrote it solely for his children's enjoyment and had no plans to publish it. But fortunately for other children, and adults as well, his poem was heard by the daughter of the rector of St. Paul's Church in Troy, New York. She asked to be allowed to read it to the children of her father's parish.

ASK ANY WOMAN WHAT SHE WANTS FOR CHRISTMAS and she'll no doubt say—"Make mine mink." Here is a style representative of the many soft, flattering small furs available this season. The collared cape stole with pocket front enhances every woman and is luxurious topping for all occasions in any of the many new, glowing mink shades.

Pipe Smoker Finds Peace, Contentment

THERE'S A spirit of peace and contentment in pipe smoking. And at Christmas, the new pipe is usually one of the first gifts a man uses, once he's opened his packages.

According to the Pipe and Tobacco Council, tastes and buying habits of the nation's 18,000,000 pipe smokers are undergoing small changes.

Now, men seem to prefer a set of two pipes, enabling a change of pipes after each smoke. Many new two pipe sets are now available: each pipe different in shape and style.

There are some changes in tobacco tastes also. Often the woman of the house prefers the male to smoke an aromatic blend. Young smokers also prefer aromatic smoking tobaccos. Dad or grandad may enjoy the heavier blends.

Ideal gifts for the young pipe smoker or new pipe smoker, are combination packages of smoking tobacco. New smokers like to experiment. The blending kits or combination packages of smoking tobacco thus enable them to mix or blend to suit their taste for adventure.

According to the Council the 18,000,000 pipe smokers in the United States own an average of three pipes each, many of which are purchased by women at Christmas. Pipe smokers always welcome another pipe for their collections.

The Council offers this advice for Christmas pipe shoppers.

• Buy name brands or combination packages of pipes and smoking tobacco from a reliable tobacconist, drug chain, supermarket or department store tobacco department.

• When purchasing a pipe, consider the man's taste in clothing and his interests. If he is a sportsman—purchase a sandblasted bowl. If he reads a lot, buy him a calabash, which is comfortable for the reader and student. For a taller, thin-faced individual, buy a Canadian shape. A stout pipe smoker would use a pear or apple shaped pipe. Let the clerk show you the proper shape and style to fit your pipe smoker.

Once you purchase a pipe, there are many other gifts you can choose from for other special occasions. These include humidors, pipe racks, reamers and pipe knives, as well as new tobacco blends and many other accessories which are useful and most welcomed by the pipe smoker.

Outerwear Takes On Rugged Look

OUTERWEAR for a man's Christmas 1961 takes on a rugged, practical and thoroughly masculine look, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. The new coats and jackets are sure to be gift-hits with the men on your list.

Ski jackets are made for action—in shorter lengths, and in real shearling and shearling-like man-made fabrics in the longer versions.

High among the short jackets are quilted nylons, some in colors as reserved as navy blue or black, others as bright as the nautical signal flags from which they derive both their color and pattern.

Sueded fabrics, both woven and knitted—many backed-up with pile fabrics—look warm, are warm, and are a hot fashion to boot.

Laminated fabrics with woven or knitted surfaces bonded to polyurethane foam are a sensational development. The laminates are light in weight, as warm as the warmest, and available in a tremendous scope of models, lengths and colors. Water-resistant as well as warm, the laminates offer protection plus.

Many of the quilted jackets are reversible, too. For example, some reverse from slick nylon to Scandanavian sweater knits, others from a light to a dark shade, still others from one fabric to another.

Many jackets come in double-breasted styles—the lapover offering added warmth. There's also a revival of an old favorite—the toggel-fastened duffle coat.

Brand-new and high style in outerwear is the denim "pea coat"; lined with either real or simulated shearling.

Thought-Provoking Games

THOUGHT - PROVOKING educational, competitive and really diversified—the wide variety of games fresh from Santa's pack are all this and real fun, too.

Games of all kinds draw their inspiration from Civil War history, today's global politics, TV show formats, juvenile book classics and big time sports.

A new and large group of games is based on strategy. From the pages of history come such novelties as the "American Heritage Game of the Civil War" in which an astute armchair general can achieve a victory for the South. This strategic foray is completely documented by an accompanying outline of Civil War history.

Another game taking maneuvering skill is "Stratego"; its playing pieces are elegantly-decorated figures representing Marshals of France from the Napoleonic era.

A topical game—"Summit"—has its players manipulating "foreign aid," conduct drives to obtain spheres of influence and trying to dominate a summit conference. All reminiscent of contemporary headlines.

Games inspired by favorite TV shows are popular: there's a new edition of "Concentration"; "Video Village" which represents a TV show stage; while Deputy Dawg, Shotgun Slade and The Rifleman are heroes in the western game sector.

Every youngster can try to become a millionaire with the new "Game of Life"—developed by Art Linkletter, of radio and TV fame.

Games which reproduce favorite outdoor sports with complete realism are also destined for the best seller list.

Among these are a family skeet shoot set, with targets that go up into the air by the player's foot on a pneumatic device; National Football League Electric Football Game that provides realistic action for armchair coaches; "Fun House" and "Hit the Duck" are typical carnival sports games: each stand five feet high for "more fun than a circus."

From juvenile book classics come such novelties as Babar, the Bobbsey Twins, the Happy Little Train and other favorites—to perform their exploits on game boards.

CARDS FEATURE NATIVITY

Still the most popular theme for modern Christmas cards is the Nativity scene. Hundreds of interpretations have appeared, many of which are reproductions of the old masters.

Christmas Gifts Bring Yule Cheer

'Yes Virginia' Has Become Real Classic

ONE DAY in 1897, a little girl with a big problem sat down and wrote a letter that was to make her name famous. The little girl as Virginia O'Hanlon—her problem, was there really a Santa Claus?

On the advice of her father, she wrote a letter to the New York Sun, and the answer she received was destined to become a beloved Christmas classic.

She wrote, "Dear Editor—I am eight years old. Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in the Sun, it's so'. Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

The New York Sun's Francis P. Church, replied with an editorial that not only answered the question of a little 8-year-old girl but that warmed the hearts of young and old alike.

Since it was written 64 years ago, his editorial has been printed and reprinted in newspapers throughout the country, and read and re-read to children at Christmastime.

The most famous paragraph in this editorial reads, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias."

Mr. Church concluded his editorial with words that have echoed down the years to thrill the hearts of all who hear. "No Santa Claus! Thank God, he lives and he lives forever! A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Legend Of Flowers Bloom Anew

OF ALL the legends and stories that surround the Christmas festival, among the most beautiful are those concerning the flowers of Christmas.

The most popular floral decoration for the holiday season is the spectacular poinsettia. It is said to have originated when a poor little girl wished to offer a gift to the Mother of Jesus, and was heartbroken because she had nothing. So, she sadly plucked a few scrawny flowers to present Mary, as the Mother of Jesus approached her. Suddenly those plain little flowers were transformed into the brilliant red bloom that we know was the poinsettia.

The Christmas rose is also surrounded with a similar legend. In this instance, it was a shepherd maid who wept because she had no suitable gift to lay before the Babe in the manger. An angel appeared to her, and upon hearing why the maid wept, touched the ground where her tears had fallen. Immediately, beautiful white Christmas roses sprang up in their place, and the joyful maid gathered them up to offer to the Babe.

The chrysanthemum is said to have appeared for the first time on Christmas Eve to the Three Wise Men, as they approached the manger. It was a sign that they had reached that which they had been seeking.

The snowdrop is associated with the Virgin Mary, because it is considered an emblem of the candles she lighted on that first Christmas.

Rainfoin, or "holy hay", as it is called, is said to have cradled the Infant Jesus, as he lay in the manger.

FOR THE MAN OF THE HOUSE

IF WINTER after winter, Dad faces the familiar sidewalk battle of clearing off the snow—the family's gift to him could very well be a deluxe snow thrower.

This time-and-labor-saving device has a 3 h.p. engine, handle-mounted controls and a reversible discharge chute. It'll be a welcome gift for the family's snow shoveler, says the Dura Corporation, makers of Moto Mower equipment.

Songs And Legend Hail 3 Wise Men

"NOW WHEN Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the King, behold, there came wise men from the East to Jerusalem, saying 'Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East, and are come to worship Him.' "

This vivid account of the journey of the Three Wise Men who came to offer gifts to the Christ Child, as recorded by St. Matthew, is a beloved part of the Christmas story that is recalled each year in song and tableaux.

Over the centuries, these three have come to be known as Melchior, Gaspar and Balthazar. Melchior means "king of light", Gaspar or Carpar stands for 'the white one", and Balthazar, "the lord of treasures".

The gifts they brought with them were gold, which was the emblem of royalty; frankincense, in recognition of Jesus' divinity; and myrrh, a prophetic allusion to the sufferings and death that awaited him.

Medieval tradition named the three travelers the Three Kings of Cologne, and the Cathedral of Cologne claims to contain their relics.

Among the ancient Medes and Persians, the Magi, as they are often called, were considered members of a priestly caste, possessing great occult powers. They were believed to have come from the kingdom of Tarsus, Arabia and Ethiopia.

Whatever their origin, even to this day Christmas would not be complete without the colorful pageantry of the Three Wise Men.

Birds Make Unique Gift At Christmas

IF YOU'RE looking for a really unusual Christmas gift—one which brings lasting enjoyment—try a pet bird. Cage birds make ideal pets for either city or suburban living.

There are many varieties from which to choose, ranging from canaries and parakeets to exotic finches, myna birds, love birds, and even cockatiels and parrots.

Colorful little parakeets are affectionate and playful and readily integrate into family life. What's more, they can be taught to "talk" and to do tricks. Parakeets require little in the way of special attention. A natural feeding diet, complete to the last vitamin, is available in package form at the grocery store.

To really dramatize your gift, select a parakeet in your recipient's favorite color(they come in a wide variety of hues) and present the bird in a pretty cage. If you want to include a booklet on parakeet care and training, write to French's Pet Bird Laboratories, One Mustard Street, Rochester, N. Y. for a free copy.

Bright Star Of Bible

EVER SINCE the star of Bethlehem led the Three Wise Men to where the Infant Jesus lay, over 1900 years ago, scholars and laymen alike have speculated on the nature of that wonderful star.

Today astronomers believe that what the Magi saw was not actually a star, but a conjunction, or close passing, of the planets, Jupiter and Saturn.

Such a conjunction occurred in the year 7 B.C. This is also the year that many scholars have come to believe was the true date of the birth of Christ, ever since ancient tablets unearthed in 1923 near Ankara, Turkey, revealed that in the reign of Caesar Augustus there were three major tax collections.

The first was in 28 B.C., the second in 8 B.C., and the third in 14 A.D. Since it probably took about a year or so for the tax decree to reach Galilee in those days of slow travel, it is possible that Jesus was born a year after the decree went out. This date would coincide with that of the planet's conjunction.

The fact that the "star" was not really a star at all, would explain the fact that no one else but the Magi took notice of it. Without a doubt, they were Persian astronomers who would be aware of such phenomenon occurring and would attach mystical significance to it.

DRESSY CASUALS

IF YOU know your man well enough to select a suit for him—look into the new country suits. These usually consist of a coat, vest and trousers, some with two pairs of slacks—one to match and one to harmonize.

These smart suits may be in a solid color with a patterned vest, or vice versa.

St. Francis Introduced First Creche

CHRISTMAS today would seem incomplete without representations of the stable at Bethlehem, with the Babe in His crib, and figures of Mary, Joseph and the shepherds. Yet the first crib or "creche" did not come into existence until 1223.

It was in that year that St. Francis of Assissi found himself faced with a problem as the holy season approached. In the little town of Greccio, he had been laboring to revive a dead faith in the hearts of its people. So far, he had had no success, and now he cast about for a way to make these people understand the beauty and meaning of Christmas.

He decided to set up the Bethlehem stable scene itself, right in the village church. After receiving permission for this unusual undertaking, he and his followers set to work.

They borrowed animals, hay and wood from helpful parishioners, and invited all the peasants of Greccio to attend church that Christmas Eve.

As the villagers arrived, they were rewarded with a wonderful sight. There, before their eyes, was the story of Christmas.

To the illiterate peasants of Greccio, that simple scene conveyed the message of Christmas far more clearly than all the sermons in the world. This "praesepe", as it is called in Italy, became an annual custom and then quickly spread throughout the rest of the Christian world.

The season that we now know as Christmas was originally a time of pagan rituals. In ancient times, December 25th was the day of the Sun Festival and the twelve days following were devoted to the expulsion of all evil.

During this time, torches were lighted, bells jangled and kettles clattered in a great hue and cry that rose to ear-splitting proportions in order to drive out all wandering witches, ghosts and demons.

Yule Log Longtime Custom

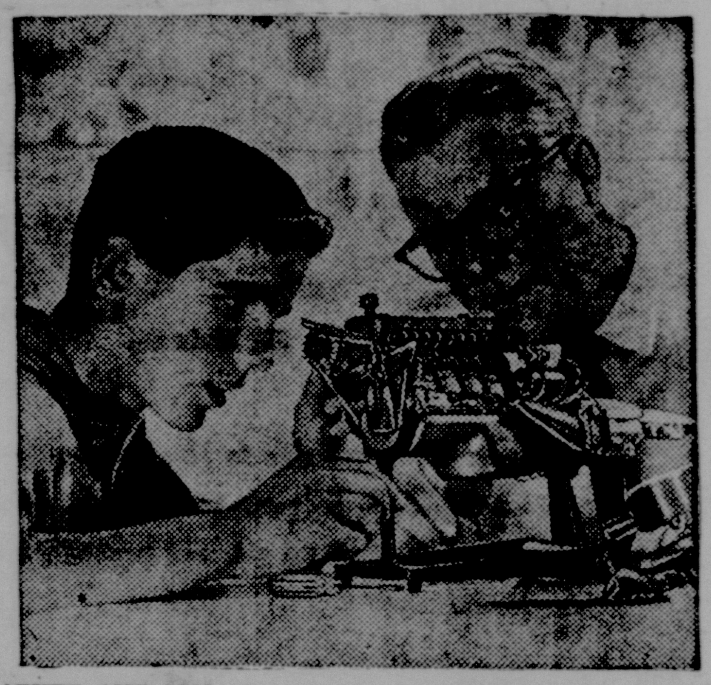

THE OLD custom of burning the Yule log is a charming Christmas tradition that has largely passed from contemporary life, although it is still observed in many places. Even though it is always thought of in connection with Christmas celebrations of years gone by, it actually dates far back into pagan times.

During what was then called the Mid-Winter Fire Festival, the log, generally one from an oak tree, would be ceremoniously lighted from a fragment saved from the year before.

When the new log sent out its brilliant flames, it was believed that the house and family would be safe from lightning and fires, that cattle and grain fields would thrive and that the earth would be fertile.

CAN'T RESIST

NO MAN can resist that mood when he unwraps his packages and finds it so dazzingly expressed in a fun-inviting sports shirt, corduroy jacket and slacks set, lounging pajamas with complementing bathrobe, princely slippers or a host of other handsome things to wear.

FATHER AND SON will both enjoy building this one-quarter scale model Chrysler Slant six engine. It helps teach the mechanically-minded youngster or adult model enthusiast the fundamentals of internal combustion and automobile engineering. All phases of model building are rewarding, satisfying fun gifts for eager-to-learn youngsters.

Interesting Christmas Behind Familiar Christmas Carols

"O LITTLE Town of Bethlehem" . . . "Silent Night" . . . "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." We're all familiar with these beloved Christmas carols but few of us know the interesting stories of how they came to be written.

The town of Bethlehem itself, on a still Christmas Eve in 1865, was the inspiration for Phillips Brooks' poem "O Little Town of Bethlehem." The minister was so moved and impressed by the sight of that little town on that Christmas Eve so long ago, that three years later he could still recall the scene vividly.

It was then that he wrote the words to this popular carol and had them set to music by Lewis Redner, his church organist.

Another minister, Dr. Edmund Sears, was responsible for yet another Christmas classic, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." Dr. Sears had been in the study of his home in Wayland, Massachusetts, watching the snow as it fell on a lovely, clear night in 1849, when he was moved to write the words to this song.

They were later published in a newspaper and seen by Richard S. Willis, who in turn was inspired to write the music for this lovely old hymn.

One of our most popular carols came into being in a little Austrian village, on Christmas Eve in 1818. The local pastor, the Rev. Josef Mohr, had ventured out to bless a young mother and her newly-born son. The long walk on the silent, starry night through the snow-covered hills and the sight of the radiant mother and child impressed the good Father deeply. When he returned to his rectory, he described the beauty of what he had seen in simple, moving lyrics.

Because the organ in their village church was broken, Father Mohr prevailed upon his church organist, Franz Gruber, to compose appropriate music on his guitar. On Christmas Night, accompanied only by the guitar, they sang for the first time, the beautiful carol, "Silent Night."

Don't Go Overboard For Gifts

BECAUSE it is so easy to get carried away with the spirit of the holiday season and spend more than you can afford, many people find that they have taxed their savings or placed a burden on their future budgets by unwise shopping.

To prevent this from happening to you, it's wise to prepare a gift list that has been balanced against your budget before you begin your shopping. This will help you determine how much you can spend for individual gifts without going over your budget.

Gifts that you have made yourself are an excellent way of cutting down costs, and are also greatly appreciated because they are gifts of your time and talent. It should be remembered at all times that giving is the important part of Christmas, rather than the gift itself.

So it is not really necessary to go "overboard" on a present in order to show a person that he or she is well thought of.

Spend within your means . . . you'll enjoy your Christmas much more if you have not been unwisely extravagant in your expenditures.

CUFF LINKS RATE

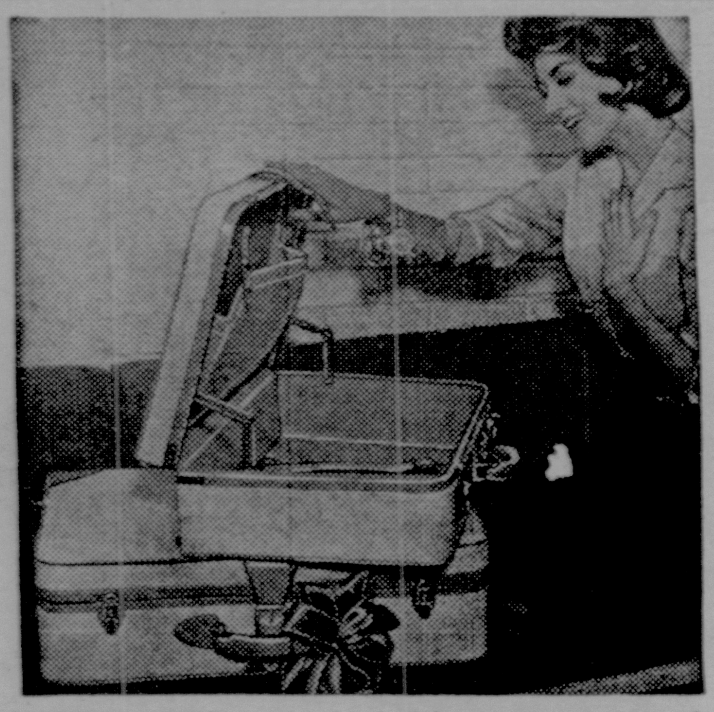

AN EXCITING, greater-than-ever collection of cuff links is waiting to bring an extra touch of elegance to the discriminating man's wardrobe.

Then, of course, there are tie claps to match. A visit to a men's store will show you a never-ending variety of jewelry for the man on your list. Look for matching belt buckles, key chains, too.

CHRISTMAS FOILS FEATURE GAY COLORS, ATTRACTIVE DESIGNS. Brightly tinted foils in delightful holiday prints of both traditional and contemporary design, make eye-pleasing packages to go under the Christmas tree.

Beat The Rush! Yule Shop Early

A WINNING PAIR! A gift of paired luggage cases are a pair of aces for winning ways with your special girl. These are in antique white vinyl beautifully high-lighted with suntan leather binding and handles. Complete the set with matching accessory pieces on other gift occasions.

Bicycles Favorite Present

BICYCLES are expected to retain their position as a favorite Christmas gift for both young and old. Youngsters are delighted to receive bikes at Christmas, for their fun value. Young adults enjoy the low-cost transportation afforded while adult men and women use the bike for fun and fitness.

More bikes are given at Christmas than at any other time, surveys have shown, mostly by grandparents who present the youngster of the family with his first two-wheeler.

Of the 27 million bikes in use in America, some 5 million are used by persons above the age of 21.

Bikes are being used for dating, in revenue-producing activities such as newspaper and package delivery, and for campus transportation when classes are scheduled in widely separated buildings.

At high schools, too, bike use is soaring and many graduates-to-be will be placing an order with Santa for a new bike in the colors of their future alma mater.

At the other end of the scale, children are riding two-wheelers at a more tender age than ever before because of the fine safety record rolled up by cyclists. Partially responsible are the safety programs sponsored each year in hundreds of communities in conjunction with the Bicycle Institute of America.

If your favorite person already owns a two-wheeler, there are a variety of handsome accessories to please the bike owner at Christmas.

A "PORTABLE" THAT REALLY IS! So light you can literally hold it by one finger; easy to work with, this typewriter gives big machine performance. In its attrative case, the new portable typewriter is hardly heavier or larger than a woman's handbag.

Jewelry Accessories Make Special Gifts For Men

Jewelry accessories for men make very special gifts, the Jewelry Industry Council reminds Christmas shoppers. Many men hesitate to buy for themselves those tie clips, cuff links, chains and watches that add so much to their appearance.

As vests return to fashion, the pocket watch with all its handsome trappings of pocket chains and knives suggests the ideal fashion gift.

The stylish Continental trend, calling attention to the new ties and shirts, is beautifully accessorized with gold tie clips or tie tacks in unusual designs, often sporting real or facsimile stones and matched to elegant stone-set cuff links.

The handsome traditional look of natural-shoulder fashions suggests some special jewelry accessories in the same fashion mood.

Neat, tiny gold tie tacks or tacks set with a single cultured pearl are traditional companions to knit and foulard ties.

Fine slim jeweled-lever watches, often paired to alligator or other leather bands, are also favorites.

Every man treasures handsome pocket accessories: gold pens and pencils, lighters, cigarette or cigar cases, fine wallets, pen knives, extra watch bands are all "ideal" gifts for him.

Rings Are Oldest Forms Of Jewelry Denoting Rank

Rings are the oldest forms of jewelry. For many centuries rings were used to denote the station and rank of the wearer. This year, you can show your favorite guy just how he rates with you — just give him a ring this Christmas.

Rings have returned to fashion favor, reports the Jewelryy Industry Council, and points out that there's a wide, wide variety from which to choose.

Your choice may be an insignia ring of his favorite business, fraternal or scholastic organization; a signet ring or ring bearing his initials in open letters or engraving; a a birthstone, carved hematie, onyx, star sapphire or ruby—or a diamond —all in rugged stylized settings.

Whichever you choose, your gift of a ring will surely be worn with pride this Christmas and in the many years to come.

MANY FAMILIES WILL "SAY IT WITH MUSIC" when they say "Merry Christmas" this year. A gift of an electric organ is one that the entire family will enjoy for years to come. This Concert model can be played by sight by anyone who can read, because the keys are numbered and the chords lettered to correspond with specially written music books.

SHE'LL LOVE THIS luxurious looking hostess robe for her leisure moments. In a fine knit Eastman Chromspun acetate and nylon, the fabric drapes itself into elegantly classic lines.

FOND RELATIVES, ESPECIALLY GRANDPARENTS will treasure a portrait photograph of their favorite youngsters. In addition to being a lifetime memento, handsomely framed portrait photographs are winning honors as decor notes for the home.

Pendant Drop Fashionable

The pendant drop necklace highlights this season's jewelry fashions and makes one of the most popular Christmas gifts.

There are enormous pear-shaped pearl drops, dramatic jeweled drops or fine gold-tassel drops on the new necklaces.

Give a finished, well-planned look to her costume with a pair of matching drop earrings. The longer, more visible drop earring is right for the ear-covering hair styles and helps to balance the fuller bouffant cuts.

Looking for a very feminine, gay and sentimental Christmas gift? The Fashion Coordination Institute suggests the new, rigid bangle bracelet that carries a single big charm.

The newest bracelet fashion fills in the shortened sleeves on suits and dresses, and is the latest version of the traditional charm bracelet. There's an almost invisible clasp to make the charms detachable and interchangable in an endless assortment.

Dictionary Good Gift

THIS CHRISTMAS may be the strategic time to present your favorite student with the gift of a big, new unabridged dictionary.

Getting the habit of looking up precise meanings of words, says the G. H. G. Merriam Company, publishers of the familiar Merriam-Webster dictionary, can give the young student an important boost in his or her education.

An effective speaking and reading vocabulary are basic to top performance in business, as well as in school and social life.

TELEVISION "STARS" JOIN FAMILY OF TALKING DOLLS. The host, hostess and star "Matty's Funday Funnies" on ABC-TV —Matty Mattel, Casper the Friendly Ghost and Sister Belle—will be delighting youngsters this Christmas as the newest in talking dolls.

The Vikings

THANK THE Vikings for that jolly elf we know as Santa's Little Helper. In ancient times in Scandinavia, long before Leif Eriksen discovered America, little children were told stories of Jul Tomten, a little elf with long white whiskers, who saw to it that the earth gave abundanly of good food and that the animals and birds were taken care of.

When the Vikings became Christians, Jul Tomten became the giver of presents, just as our Santa Claus is today. Children would leave a bowl of porridge on the kitchen table for him, and he in turn would leave gifts for good boys and girls.

Over the years, travelers to the North brought back the legend of Jul Tomten, and eventually he became a part of our own Christmas tradition, as the busy little elf in Santa's workshop.

NEW TOY TRUCKS EMPHASIZE REALISM FOR UP-TO-DATE YOUNGSTERS. Representative of the demand for authenticity in toys, are these 1961 models in heavy gauge steel. Pick-up truck's side drops neatly for easy loading and unloading. Airlines lift truck looks just like the real thing.

Put Men On Your Gift List

PUT THE men on your gift list feet-first into leisure this Christmas with smart, casual leather shoes, suggests the Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

The shoe industry has really multiplied its number of styles, colors and leather textures in footwear—for a man's afterwork and weekend leisure.

Suedes and brushed leathers in colors that range from golden stag and brick red to loden green and rust brown supply a bright color accent to conservative colors like black and char-brown. Smooth leathers are used principally in conservative and dress casuals—brown or black—in both slipon and tie-on styles.

Popular weekend casua's include new brushed leather slipons with elastic goring hidden inside the tongue or visible at the sides to make the shoes snug but easy to put on. Some styles are dressed up with a half-inch band of smooth leather around the collar, while one group substitutes a full collar of elasticized leather for conventional gore.

In the trend to dressier, more conservative apparel for leisure and sports, casual shoes favor trim leather soles which kep a neat, smart outline for the life of the shoes.

Rugged and weather - resistant, leather makes an ideal casual shoe material for cold weather wear. The outdoor leather casual usually has a heavier but flexible leather sole and higher sides or tongues to keep the wind at bay.

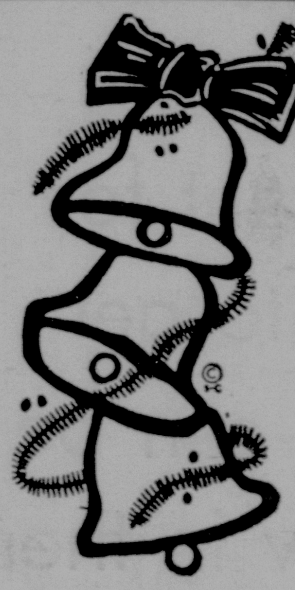

At-home shoes—not to be confused with soft slippers—have firm leather soles and cushioned leather insoles and can be worn any number of hours without foot strain. Included are low slipons or high boot styles in glove-soft deerskin and cowhide leathers. Suntan, cordovan, walnut and black are all popular colors.

Tips On Mailing

SENDING gifts through the mail this Christmas? Here are some suggestions for making sure your package arrives safely at its destination.

First of all, be sure to protect the items you are sending by wrapping them in heavy corrugated cardboard box. Pack the contents of hte package tightly; the post office can refuse to accept any package if its contents shift around.

When mailing Christmas cards, be sure to use the correct postage. A Christmas card deserves first class postage, in a sealed envelope with a four cent stamp. Be sure to put your
